Only Few Minutes From Broadway

The cold wave that sent temperatures in the east to the coldest point in two years created scenes of polar ice almost within the shadow of Manhattan skyscrapers. Above a ferryboat, dwarfed by the size of the floes that move down the Hudson River, attempts to batter its way through a huge sheet of ice at Nyack, N. Y.

MRS. J. E. PLEASANTS INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. J. E. Pleasants, Orange county pioneer and historian, who has been writing a series of articles for The Register, suffered three broken ribs and a slight head concussion late last night at Washington and Main streets, when she was walking across Main street and was struck down by a car.

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF STATE OFFICIAL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—(UP)—The body of Comte E. O'Connell, 41, of San Bernardino, president of the California State Employees' Association, was in the county morgue here today awaiting an autopsy to determine cause of his death yesterday.

O'Connell, who came here to confer with Gov. Frank F. Merriam, dropped dead in central police station, apparently from a heart attack.

He was chief clerk in the division of highways office in San Bernardino, a past exalted ruler of the San Bernardino Elks, and had held various American Legion offices in San Bernardino county.

MISSING WOMAN IS SOUGHT BY POLICE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Police from Pasadena to San Diego today joined in a search for Mrs. J. M. Ross, 37, of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography, La Jolla, after her son, Don Pigney, of Pasadena, reported she apparently disappeared while driving to Pasadena to visit relatives.

Pigney said his mother left La Jolla at 2 p. m. last Saturday driving her automobile alone. She had $12 in her purse, he said.

Mrs. Ross did not reach her son's home and had not been heard from by other relatives in Whittier, Pigney said.

Arizona Youth In Battle for Life

MESA, Ariz., Jan. 25.—(UP)—Arizona's new $2000 "Iron Lung," in use for the first time, fought alone today the battle of science for the life of 17-year-old Jack Shill, Mesa high school basketball star, suffering a rapidly ascending paralysis.

The youth's ailment, which remained undiagnosed for more than a week after he complained of aches in his legs, was revealed by Dr. Melvin L. Kent today to be Landry's paralysis. The physician said Shill's lungs were almost completely paralyzed and he was able to breathe but 25 per cent of capacity.

The youthful athlete, with only "a remote" chance of ever walking again, would die for lack of air within a few minutes if deprived of the mechanical respiratory aid, Dr. Kent said.

Middle-West Lashed By Terrific Storm

BAROMETERS IN MICHIGAN HIT NEW LOW

A swirling blizzard driven by a 40-mile-per-hour gale swept across Northern Michigan blockading roads and disrupting communications today while rapidly dropping temperatures averted the threat of serious floods in Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa.

The storm that lashed Michigan was the severest of the winter. At Marquette, Mich., isolated by 12-foot snow drifts, a fire destroyed two stores and threatened five more.

Telephones Out
Water from fire hoses froze on the nozzles and icicles clung to the firemen's hats and coats. Telephone connections with western sections of the upper Michigan peninsula were broken for several hours in an attempt to conserve power while the fire endangered electrical service.

A snowplow bucked the drifts between Ishpeming and Diopite to rescue 20 children marooned in a school bus.

A 158-foot antennae mast of radio station WBEQ, Marquette, was blown down.

Barometer readings throughout Michigan were the lowest in many years, indicating a continuation of the storm.

Japanese In Warning To Third Power

TOKYO, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Japan must seriously consider the question of foreign powers supplying arms to China, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota said today in parliament.

Hirota made his statement in reply to Viscount Takehiko Sono-da, who in questioning the foreign minister, paid tribute to the attitude of the United States in the Chinese-Japanese conflict and added:

"If Great Britain insults oriental races and fails to respect Japan's position in the Far East, Japan would be unable to guarantee the continued existence of Britain's rights and interests in China. Britain's suspension of a plan to send a fleet to Asia was timely. Britain should refrain from unnecessarily arousing the Japanese people."

Hirota, in response, said that the supply of arms reaching China

TRAFFIC DEATH INQUESTS TODAY

Inquests, in charge of Coroner Earl Abbey, were scheduled for this afternoon at Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral chapel, Anaheim, where the victims of two traffic accidents which occurred Sunday night and yesterday morning, await funeral arrangements and services.

Mrs. Marie Agnes Bohr, 77, was killed almost instantly when hurled 50 feet as she attempted to walk across Center street at Emily, Anaheim, Sunday night, and was struck by an automobile driven by Frank J. Ramirez, 19, Anaheim. Ramirez is in county jail, facing a charge of negligent homicide.

Driver's License Suspended
As a result of the second death, in which a car operated by Clyde Simpson, 45, Norwalk, and a school bus operated by Raymond Hamilton, Anaheim, collided at Crescent and Miller roads, killing Simpson, Hamilton's bus driving license was suspended by the California Highway patrol.

Officer George Peterkin, in charge of school bus operation in the county, said, from the evidence, he ascertained that Hamilton was partially to blame for the mishap. The intersection has visibility in all directions for a long distance, the officer said. Hamilton said he believed Simpson was speeding.

NATIVE CALIFORNIAN DIES AT AGE OF 104

SANTA RITA, Cal., Jan. 25.—(UP)—Funeral arrangements were made today for Mrs. Catarina Rodriguez Berryessa, a member of an early Spanish-California family, who died one month before her 104th birthday.

With her at her death were Fred Berryessa, only living child of her 12, and many of her 22 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren. Mrs. Berryessa was related to the most prominent families of old California. She was a niece of General Jose Castro, one time governor of California. During her young womanhood, her home was a center of the social, governmental and military life of Spanish California.

START BUILDING OF NEW MARTIN PLANES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(UP)—The navy today awarded a contract for $1,008,217 to the Wright Aeronautical Corp., Paterson, N. J., for 56 airplane motors and parts.

The motors will be used to power 21 twin motored flying boats now under construction for the navy by the Glenn L. Martin Co., of Baltimore.

AUTHOR, WIFE RECOVER
CHANDLER, Ariz., Jan. 25.—(UP)—Frederick Hazlett Brennan, noted novelist, of Los Angeles, and his wife, were recuperating today from injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Wickenburg last Dec. 31 that killed two women.

The couple were released from Good Samaritan hospital here yesterday when their physician pronounced them "not hospital cases any longer." They are at the San Marcos hotel here.

Triangle Without Rancor

Leave it to Peggy Rich, the marriage-minded blond Broadway delight, to give the eternal triangle a new twist. She's snapping a picture of prospective hubby No. 5 (hatless Michael Tree, the orchestra leader) bidding bon voyage at New York to Peggy No. 4 (behatting Teddy Royce, British film actor). As soon as Peggy finishes a movie in England, he'll rush back to help Peggy get an annulment of their elopement marriage so she can marry Tree.

EXPEDITION SEEKING MISSING AVIATOR RESCUED FROM ISLE

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Word was received here today of the rescue Saturday of the Waldeck expedition seeking Paul Redfern, long missing American aviator, from Devil's Hole Island far up the Cuyuni river.

The expedition, composed of Theodore J. Waldeck, New York explorer; his wife, Mrs. Jo Besse Waldeck; William Astor Chandler, New York sportsman, and Dr. Frederick J. Fox of Boston, was abandoned more than three weeks ago by native boatmen.

The motor launch "Wolf Cub," owned by a Georgetown gold miner named "De Souza," reached the island Saturday and found the members of the party suffering from attacks of mosquitoes and ants.

Supplies Depleted
They had been practically without food, except for flesh of animals which they occasionally man-

WEST COLLECTS MILEAGE FEE IN SPITE OF OLD AGREEMENT

In spite of a "gentlemen's agreement" entered into several years ago by the board of supervisors when their salaries were raised from $200 to $250 monthly, Supervisor N. E. West collected $32.69 in mileage from the county today.

Under the agreement, reached several years before West was elected supervisor, members of the board surrendered their rights to mileage when they accepted the salary increase.

The law however, stated that a supervisor, acting as a road commissioner is entitled to mileage, not exceeding $200 in any one year, for travel, either in or out of the county, in his capacity as road commissioner.

In allowing his demand for the mileage the supervisors pointed out that it was not as bad as it might have been. West only asked 33 cents per mile for 934 miles and the law allows him 20 cents per mile one way.

No other supervisor has turned in a mileage report since the "gentlemen's agreement," but "everything is different now."

Star Says Salary Only $150 a Week

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25.—(UP)—A movie star surprised Hollywood today by revealing that he earns only $150 a week. He is Jon Hall, the husky handsome star of the hit picture, "Hurricane."

Hall told his salary while testifying in a court battle to rid himself of a contract with an agent, Art Meyer, which would pay Meyer 10 per cent of his earnings. Hall claims he was a minor, only 20 years old, when he signed the contract two years ago.

After a day's argument in court, the dispute was settled by Hall paying Meyer $700, and the contract was torn up.

Hall said his salary goes up from $150 to $200, still far below the fabulous earnings generally attributed to film stars.

Rival Labor Leaders In Word Battle

The nation's labor leaders met in rival conference today to consider problems of economic depression and conflict between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

John L. Lewis, C.I.O. head, told his United Mine Workers convention at Washington that labor would fight any plan to meet business recession by price cuts or wage reductions. His lieutenants denounced President William Green of the Federation—a possible forerunner to expulsion of the federation head from membership in the mine union.

At Miami, a strong group of the Federation executive council launched a drive to oust all C.I.O. sympathizers from federation unions. They said the first move would be an effort to force the Pennsylvania State Federation to expel all members of C.I.O. unions who constitute the bulk of the state membership.

REED APPROVED BY U. S. SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(UP)—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Stanley F. Reed to be an associate justice of the supreme court.

Reed, former solicitor general, succeeds Justice George Sutherland, who retired last week. The nomination of the solicitor general, who argued many New Deal cases before the supreme court, was not opposed.

President Roosevelt's selection of Reed as his second nominee for the high tribunal was generally approved by both conservatives and liberals, in contrast to the controversy over his first selection, Justice Hugo L. Black.

May Name Woman
Rumors that there would be further retirements from the court continued as did belief that Mr. Roosevelt would seriously weigh appointment of a woman—possibly Circuit Judge Florence Allen of Ohio—in event of another vacancy.

Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo has been critically ill for several weeks and there were reports that he would resign because of ill health. His condition today was reported "unchanged."

BRIBE CHARGES HIT MIAMI CIVIC GROUP

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—(UP)—A newspaper advertisement signed by a power company president asserting "I won't pay a bribe" today brought an intense investigation of administration of America's winter playground. Three Miami city commissioners and two city employees were indicted by a grand jury investigating charges of municipal corruption.

A week after it started investigation of charges by Bryan C. Hanks, president of the Florida Power and Light company, that he was solicited for a $250,000 bribe, the jury returned a partial verdict in which it accused a majority of the city's ruling body and two experts in the city's employment.

DEMANDS FOR COMPROMISE ARE DENIED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Despite demands by business and labor groups for a compromise on the administration's drive against monopoly, it was learned today that President Roosevelt still is determined to "streamline" the anti-trust laws.

The New Deal's No. 1 trust buster, Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, was expected to clarify the administration's position when he speaks Wednesday night at Boston before the Harvard Club, and Saturday night at Syracuse, N. Y., before the New York Publishers meeting.

Hold Conference
Jackson and Benjamin Cohen, both members of Mr. Roosevelt's inner council of strategy, conferred with the president for more than an hour yesterday afternoon.

Emphasis on the Administration's strong policy against holding companies came from another front when Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., disclosed at his press conference that a subcommittee of an interdepartmental committee on banking would meet later this week to discuss bank holding company legislation.

CC TO OBSERVE 50TH BIRTHDAY

With the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce approaching its 50th birthday, preliminary steps were taken by the board of directors yesterday for a huge commemorative program to be sponsored by the organization.

Arrangements for the celebration were turned over to the city promotion and advertising committee, headed by E. B. Sharpley. The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce was first incorporated August 17, 1888 as the Santa Ana Board of Trade. A few years later the name was changed to the Orange County Chamber of Commerce and, later, to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Continued Service
According to Howard Wood the Santa Ana organization is one of the few in California that holds a record of 50 years continuous service. Many communities organized chambers of commerce 50 years ago, Wood said, but at some time the organization was discontinued for a year or more.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce also is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year and is planning a commemorative fiesta. Sharpley will call a meeting of his committee members within a short time for a preliminary discussion of plans for the anniversary.

MERRIAM TO CALL SESSION IN MARCH

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today indicated he would call a special session of the state legislature within a month.

The session, expected to be called about March 1, will be asked to act on the following problems: Leasing of state-owned oil pools under state-owned lands; appropriation of $100,000 for the industrial accident commission; housing legislation to enable the state and municipal corporations to take advantage of provisions of the federal housing act; revision of the agricultural pro-rate act as it affects prunes.

Merriam said bills affecting these subjects are being prepared and will be ready when the legislature meets at Sacramento. He indicated relief and taxation would not be subjects included in the special session's agenda.

Skiles, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange, who told of the past season's activities and stressed the responsibility of the individual grower to his own cooperative association, and Manager Young.

Young reported that the total cullage was approximately 24 per cent the past season as compared to 1-2 per cent during the 1936 season. He said that the use of the fluorescent machine had enabled the association to ship a better grade of fruit and had enabled them to salvage the maximum amount of fruit.

Mystery Shooting Is Investigated

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 25.—(UP)—T. W. Cline, 45, San Bernardino, Calif., insurance agent, nursed a gun wound in his left foot today while police and railroad detectives sought the stranger from whose weapon the bullet was fired mysteriously in a train's wash room yesterday.

Cline said he was standing at a wash bowl on a westbound train "when suddenly I felt as if I had been hit on the heel with a hammer." A .22 calibre automatic pistol lay on the floor.

Cline reported he asked the bearded stranger behind him if it was his gun. The man stood silently and pale as Cline and another passenger applied a tourniquet to the bleeding foot.

The stranger finally picked up the gun, pocketed it, and left the train just before it stopped here.

Reunion of East and West

A bit bewildered, unable to speak any English, 19-year-old Joseph Rhinehart clings to his Chinese foster-father, Fung Dong, New York restaurant owner, at their reunion in Manhattan's Chinatown. Joseph was known as Fung Kwok Keung in the Canton village where he had been reared after his white parents abandoned him to the elderly Chinese care. Dr. Fung, he says, dissuaded him from joining the Chinese army when Japanese bombing raids spurred him to action.

through British Hong Kong was only a small part of the total. He continued:

"In view of the fact that the Japanese government has decided not to deal with the Chinese National government is most serious, I consider the position of third powers regarding the supply of munitions."

In answer to another question Hirota said that a formal declaration of war on China was a possibility but that it depended on future developments.

HUNDREDS SLAIN IN WUHU BATTLE

SHANGHAI, Jan. 25.—(UP)—A battle between Japanese and Chinese regulars is raging in the vicinity of Wuhu, 50 miles up the Yangtze river from Nanking, it was reported today.

The fighting, in progress now for three days, was vicious, hand to hand and the casualties were said to be enormous.

Airplanes assisted the Chinese, it was reported and engaged Japanese gunboats in battle.

The hills around Wuhu were said to be strewn with dead. The hills changed hands several times during the three day period, according to the reports, with neither side gaining an advantage.

The great dam at Gatun, in the Panama Canal Zone, is 7500 feet high, 2150 feet wide at the base, and 100 feet wide at the top.

ANAHEIM STOCK SUIT IS FILED

Dispute between Mrs. Agnes T. Grim and Ernest F. Ganahl over a transaction in stock of the Ganahl-Grim Lumber company, of Anaheim, was carried into the courts today when Mrs. Grim filed suit against Ganahl asking the court to declare the rights of each party under the stock transaction, and also asking judgment for $1087.45 against Ganahl.

Mrs. Grim sold certain stock of the lumber company to Ganahl early in 1937, her complaint recites. She alleges that he was at that time indebted to her in the amount of $1087.45, in connection with another matter. Now, she states, Ganahl claims that the stock transaction wiped out the other debt, a claim that she disputes. The lawsuit results from this disagreement.

FDR TO CONTINUE WAR ON MONOPOLY

Morganthau has dismissed the situation with Sen. Carter Glass, D. Va., heretofore a bitter foe of New Deal monetary policies, but who announced that he was preparing a bill which would impose a "death sentence" on all bank holding companies. Glass' measure would provide for liquidation of existing companies over a five-year period.

To Continue Fight

Irrespective of the anti-trust drive, Mr. Roosevelt was expected to continue conferences with business leaders in an effort to fight the economic recession with greater co-operation between business and government. However, he probably will delay his expected anti-trust message to Congress until after he has had a chance to confer with "little" business men, one administration leader said.

Reports that the administration had "softened" its anti-trust policies were described in high administration circles as "misleading."

The details of the legislative program have not yet been determined, it was reported. It had been rumored that John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and several business leaders strongly urged President Roosevelt to "pull his punch" in his anti-trust drive.

Follow Up Victory

The department of justice said it would follow up their victory against 16 oil companies at Madison, Wis., last week, by "going to bat" in another anti-trust suit against the Aluminum Company of America. The trial against that company has been set for April in the New York state southern district court.

The department also has sent out more agents to push an investigation of west coast oil companies, after the first group asked aid and reported that they had "run into something bigger than we expected."

Other industries under investigation include the cinema, rubber, newsprint and milk marketing.

FEMININE WORKERS ADOPT NEW ATTIRE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 25.—(UP)—Women employees of the unemployment reserves department admitted with a blush today that it was modesty and economy rather than the dictates of fashion which forced them to substitute slacks for skirts as their working garb.

Several hundred girls joined the move to the more masculine attire because constant stooping and stretching in filling individual record cards caused so many runners in their hose and too great a distraction for male employees.

SQUADS SAVE LIVES

CLEVELAND (UP)—"Whoopie" squads gave to Cleveland a week-end without a single traffic death. A total of 137 arrests were made by 63 "whoopie" squads in a police roundup aimed at speeders, light-crashers and violators of all traffic laws.

COUNTY WRECK TROUBLE LOOMS

"Trouble was brewing today between the county and an insurance company over settlement for the county ambulance that was destroyed by wreck and fire, nearly a year ago, when the ambulance crew of two men were killed at First street and Harbor boulevard.

The county carried a $400 insurance policy with the Fireman's Fund Insurance company. According to Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenlon, the insurance company has offered a settlement of $40.41. Fenlon missed, by a wide margin, seeing eye to eye with the insurance adjuster on that figure. He ended by turning the dispute over to District Attorney W. F. Menton.

The district attorney now is exercising his persuasive powers upon the insurance company in an effort to work out an amicable settlement.

2 YOUTHS HELD IN BURGLARIES

Service station burglaries in Santa Ana and Olinda were cleared up today with the arrest of Robert E. Elliott, 19, Olinda, and Robert Easton, 20, Brea, according to police preliminary hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison today and were remanded to superior court for sentence.

The youths, arrested by Officer Harry Hardy of Brea, admittedly admitted smashing a window at the Dean Morehouse service station, 1302 South Main, last Friday night or early Saturday morning, and taking 70 pennies, a battery and five quarts of oil. They were arrested in connection with a similar theft in Olinda. Bail was set at $3000 each.

Two other boys, 16 and 17, both of Anaheim, respectively, were booked at county jail on burglary charges yesterday to await action of juvenile authorities. Artis Johnson, former postal service employee, was booked by Frank Besser, deputy United States marshal, on a charge of forgery, and counterfeiting of money orders.

At request of J. A. McCoe, liquor dealer at 415 West Fourth, Santa Ana officers were hunting an alleged fictitious check writer who passed a bad check for $17.74 to McCoe.

Three Orange county California highway patrol officers have been honored with appointments as sergeants in the California highway patrol of the state, it was revealed today as the men left for Los Angeles to obtain their new rating.

The men are Floyd Yoder, George Peterkin and Charles Wolfe. E. Raymond Cato, head of the state patrol, told Capt. H. C. Meehan of the Orange county unit, two sergeants are open in this county but he was not certain whether it would be possible to keep two of the new appointees here.

"I will do all I can to allow two of them to remain at their present location," Cato said. He gave no location of the probable assignment of any of the trio.

SURGEON HEARD AT PAUL WRIGHT TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—(UP)—County Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner today testified at Paul A. Wright's trial for the murder of his wife, Evelyn, and his best friend, John Kimmel, that four bullets were fired into Mrs. Wright's back and three of these bullets passed through Kimmel's body.

The surgeon used half life-size charts of Mrs. Wright and Kimmel to demonstrate the death wounds to the jury. All of the bullets fired at Mrs. Wright entered her body about the head and neck, one passing through the upper part of her arm, Wagner said. Kimmel's wounds were in the chest, head and groin and all entered from the front of the body.

Mrs. Jess E. McBride of Detroit, mother of the slain woman, wept bitterly as Wagner testified.

THREE COUNCILMEN GIVEN CLEAN SLATE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—(UP)—Three Los Angeles city councilmen who attended a banquet given by Leon M. Raab, now facing charges of attempting to bribe Santa Anita race track officials, today were absolved of connection with the bookmakers' plot by District Attorney Byron Fitts.

Fitts returned here today after an over-night airplane trip to San Francisco where he interviewed Albert W. Worthington, former chief inspector at the Santa Anita track, and his assistant, Ralph Chapel, both of whom resigned recently.

"I learned from them," Fitts said, "that three Los Angeles councilmen attended Raab's banquet, but had no part in any discussion of a proposed pay-off at the track. 'Because the councilmen are in no way involved in this investigation, I shall withhold their names.' 'I learned also that no members of my staff attended Raab's dinner,'" Fitts said.

MIDDLE WEST HIT BY TERRIFIC STORM

Temperatures that dropped as much as 25 degrees within a few hours in some sections halted the rush of flood waters through Southern Wisconsin, northwestern and central Illinois, and parts of eastern Iowa.

Suffering was intense among the 400 persons made homeless by floods in Rockford, Ill. The cold, although it cut down the flow of flood waters, endangered the health of many families living in makeshift quarters until the water recedes from their homes.

At Ashland, Wis., the gale whipped the ice choked waters of Lake Superior forcing the Coast Guard Cutter Diligence to abandon the search for two fishermen who have been marooned on Cat Island since the ice broke two weeks ago. Milwaukee policemen, wearing overcoats, mufflers and ear muffs, chased a nude man four blocks through icy streets. The man didn't know why he was abroad.

Transport Forced Down
An Eastern Air Lines transport, carrying two passengers and a crew of three, landed at Hartford, Conn. airport early today after it had been lost seven hours in a gale. The ship, bound for Washington, D. C., from Newark, N. J., airport, was approximately 100 miles off its course.

Strong winds blew over the midwest, creating dust storms in western Kansas and in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles. A 43 mile an hour wind blew in Kansas City. Several houses and a school were unroofed in Wichita, Kan., by winds reaching a velocity of 56 miles an hour.

Snow flurries were reported over Missouri yesterday but no moisture was received in the parched winter wheat belt of western Kansas. Temperatures dropped this morning to lows of between 10 and 20 degrees in Missouri and Kansas.

Water lilies are not lilies; they are more closely related to the buttercup.

LAGUNA BANKER NAMED IN SUIT

Although Frank D. Hevener, Laguna Beach bank manager, receives a salary of $300 per month and owns property worth $40,000 the county has been contributing funds to support his mother, Mrs. Sarah L. Hevener. It was alleged today in a suit filed in superior court through the district attorney's office to recover judgment against the son for the $100 allegedly advanced to Mrs. Hevener.

The suit was one of three similar actions brought by the county. Another asked judgment for $140 against William J. Planchon and Clarence Planchon, for moneys assertedly advanced to their father, John Pierre Planchon. Clarence Planchon was said to earn $200 per month, William $65 per month, each possessing $1000 in property. A third suit asked $150 judgment against Charles L. Emerson for funds advanced to his mother, Mrs. Rose Henry. Emerson was said to earn $150 per month.

BOARD TO PROVIDE ATHLETIC TEAMS WITH TRANSPORTATION

While authorizing extra bus service for about 25 pupils of Logan school, which will cost $20 per month for the rest of the term, or the equivalent of approximately five-cent fare, the board of education last night decided to budget funds next year for bus service in the transportation of athletic teams.

Dr. Margaret Baker's suggestion that the district might do well to purchase its own bus, rather than pay bus hire, brought a discussion of the question, resulting in a motion by R. R. Hays to budget funds next year for bus service. Whether the schools will buy or hire the bus remained to be determined by investigation. Some board members believed it would be cheaper to hire the service.

Concert Announced
 Superintendent Frank Henderson reported that Orange owns and operates eight buses, teachers serving as drivers, at a compensation of $30 to $40 per month. Anaheim and Whittier both lease bus service, from the same organization that supplies Santa Ana.

The board was informed that the federal music project, directed by Leon Eckles, plans a free concert Tuesday evening, February 22, in Willard auditorium.

W. W. Wieman, director of vocational classes, reported employment of W. F. Hemtges as plastering instructor in the apprentice court, instead of J. J. Woodward, previously announced as the instructor.

THAT "CHANT" SPELLS "EXPERT"

Lee Riggs, auctioneer, knows tobacco... he explains why experts prefer Luckies 2 to 1

"THIS SEASON," says Mr. Riggs, "I've sold tobacco in Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Tennessee. More than 7,500,000 pounds, 1 figure, amounting to about $2,000,000 in money. "Time after time I've seen Lucky Strike get the prettiest tobacco in the auction. That's one reason I've smoked Luckies ever since I've been an auctioneer. "Another reason I and so many other tobacco auctioneers prefer Luckies is because we have to watch out for our throats." (Luckies are extra-easy on the throat because the "Toasting" process takes out certain irritants found in even the finest tobacco.)

Mr. Riggs goes on to say that Luckies are the top cigarette with people who know tobacco. And he is talking facts. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many—yes, twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes put together.

PHYSICAL DEFECTS FOUND IN 220 OF 268 GRADE STUDENTS

Out of 268 pupils of the first and fourth grades in Roosevelt, Jefferson, Wilson and Lincoln schools of Santa Ana, given routine physical examination by school health authorities during December, all but 48 were declared to be physically defective, according to the report of Dr. Laurence Poole, school physician, to the board of education last night.

The defects of the 220 pupils were noted and reported to parents, Dr. Poole reported. He announced that 90 cases of pupils were referred to the family physician and 103 cases to dentists during the month.

Report Analyzed: Of the physical defects reported in the four schools mentioned, adenoids and tonsils accounted for 84 cases, teeth 53 cases, glands 49 cases, eyes 18 cases, ears six cases, lungs five cases, heart four, speech one, skin 1, posture one.

But little contagion was reported during December, five scattered cases of scarlet fever, four cases of chicken pox at Jefferson school, two of whooping cough and one of mumps comprising the total.

School nurses made 214 home calls to apprise parents of health or social matters relating to their children. Blood samples were taken from seven cafeterias worked for routine tests, all proving negative.

Anaheim Rancher Called by Death

William West Manter, 71, prominent rancher in the Katella district for the past 35 years, died last night at his ranch home, on West street in Anaheim.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Hanna Manter, and three daughters, Mrs. Ivan J. Carey, Ingleside; Mrs. Edward F. Powell, Norwalk; and Mrs. Stuart P. Jayne, Anaheim. Besides the immediate family, Mr. Manter leaves two sisters and one brother residing in Maine.

Funeral notice will be made later by Backs, Terry and Campbell, of Anaheim.

Warn Bicyclists Of Feb. 1 Deadline

Detective Lieutenant C. W. Wolford of the Santa Ana police department announced today that 500 bicycles in the city remain unlicensed and that February 1, is the deadline.

A total of 1000 "bikes" already have been licensed. It was stated by Wolford. The police department has been issuing plates at city hall on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and all youngsters who have not reported as yet, are urged to do so.

BOARD TO SEEK LOWER RATES

Advisability of seeking a combined meter reading for all Santa Ana schools, in an effort to get local light rates down to a parity with rates averaged by Northern California cities, was discussed by the board of education last night, when Superintendent Frank Henderson reported a comparison of Santa Ana rates with those of the northern and central California areas.

His report covering the cities of Vallejo, Eureka, Bakersfield, Berkeley, Stockton, Petaluma, Piedmont, Palo Alto and Santa Rosa, Henderson showed that the minimum service rate in those cities runs from 40 to 56 cents per month in those cities, as compared to $1 in Santa Ana; that the rate for the first 150 kilowatt hours there is 3.3 to 3.6 cents, as compared to 5.3 cents in Santa Ana; for the next 800 kilowatts, a median rate of 2.3 cents in the northern cities and 4 cents in Santa Ana; for the next 2000 kilowatts, the northern cities pay a median rate of 2.4 cents, to 3.5 in Santa Ana; for the next 7000 kilowatts, the northerners pay a median of 2 cents, to 3 cents in Santa Ana; all above that mark is charged at from 1.8 to 2 cents up north, and 2.5 cents in Santa Ana.

Ridley Smith, of the board, suggested that a combined meter reading for local schools would reduce the rates here. Business Manager George Newcom said that such a method had been offered to the schools here, providing electric heating was adopted, as well as lighting.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF
RAY C. HAMMOND

Funeral services for Ray C. Hammond, 40, of Westminster, Standard Oil company employee, whose body was found wedged between jetty and rocks at the mouth of the Santa Ana river last Friday, were held from the Dixon chapel in Huntington Beach yesterday.

The Rev. J. G. Hurst officiated and interment was at Westminster Memorial park. Pallbearers were J. E. DeLa Vergne, Ray Rox, Herman Kliffes, Jack Frost, Bert Harding and Allen Young.

Coroner Earl Abbey will conduct an inquest at the Dixon chapel Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Hammond disappeared January 17. His car and personal belongings were found in Huntington Beach.

PUBLIC BEACH PLAN DEBATED

Whether or not the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce shall ask state aid in acquiring a public beach, state park or monument, was referred to Col. M. B. Wellington, chairman of the legislative committee, yesterday by directors of the organization.

The matter came before the directors in a letter from the Shoreline Planning Association of Santa Monica in which it was pointed out that if Gov. Frank P. Merriam calls a special session of the State Legislature that part of the call relating to matters concerning tidal oil drilling include the information that consideration will be given to the allocation of a portion of oil royalties for acquisition and maintenance of such monuments. Officials of the Shoreline Planning Association urged the Santa Ana chamber to send a letter to Governor Merriam urging that such legislation be included in the legislative call.

YOU'VE INFANT DIES

38 SPECTACULAR MOUNTAIN TUNNELS FEATURE AQUEDUCT

(Note: Thirteen Southern California cities, faced with the disaster of drought—water shortage caused by the limited rainfall of a semi-desert region in which they are located—have united to protect their present development and to insure their future expansion by building the world's greatest aqueduct. These cities, which form The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, are: Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Compton, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Marino, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, and Torrance. This is the eighth and last of a series of articles about the Colorado River Aqueduct.)

The route finally selected for the aqueduct is known as the Parker Route. The beginning, or intake, is on the Colorado River two miles north of the Parker Dam, and 155 miles south of Boulder Dam, is being constructed by the Federal Government; however, Parker Dam is being paid for by the Metropolitan Water District and is an integral part of the aqueduct project.

In State's Conquest of Drought

Swinging a giant steel pipe section into place on the distributing system of the Metropolitan Aqueduct. Each of these pipe sections are 33 feet long and weigh 18 tons.

From the intake, the main line of the aqueduct runs west for 242 miles to a terminal reservoir in the vicinity of Riverside. Beginning at this reservoir, the California Reservoir, an additional 150 miles of distributing lines will carry the aqueduct water to each of the thirteen cities in the Water District.

108 Miles Long

Most spectacular of the construction features on the job has been the building of the 38 tunnels through the mountain barriers that lie between the Colorado River and the metropolitan area on the coastal plain. These tunnels have a total length of 108 miles and constitute one of the largest hard-rock tunnel jobs in construction history. Excavated in the shape of a horseshoe, these tunnels have a diameter of 18 feet—large enough to accommodate a full-size locomotive. After being excavated they are lined with concrete 18 inches thick. Tunnel excavation was started on January 25, 1933, and on January 1, 1938, more than 104 miles of tunnels had been excavated, and 98 miles of these had been lined with concrete and completed.

Open Canals

On the latter date, the entire project was approximately 70 per cent completed. On the finished side of the record were 63 miles of open, concrete lined canals, 29 miles of siphons, 50 miles of conduits, and 45 miles of distribution pipe lines. The conduits are in general the same shape as the tunnels, and have an inside diameter of 16 feet. The open canals are 55 feet wide at the top, tapering to 20 feet in width at the bottom, and are 12 feet deep. The word "pipe" is used in connection with the distributing system, and is not to be confused with ordinary water pipe. The Metropolitan Aqueduct distributing pipe lines already constructed are 12 feet in diameter. Part of the line is constructed of huge reinforced concrete pipe sections which are cast in a special fabricating plant. These precast concrete sections are 12 feet long, 12 feet in diameter, and each section weighs 42 tons.

Gravity Flow

Because the Colorado river is a thousand feet lower at the Parker Dam than the terminal reservoir of the Metropolitan Aqueduct, and since the water in the aqueduct must be given additional height in order to overcome the effect of friction on its long 392 mile gravity flow to the cities of the Coastal Basin, it will be necessary to lift the water to a total height of 1600 feet. This will be done at five pumping plants along the line of the aqueduct. Each plant will have a battery of nine giant pumps, and each pump will be able to throw water at the rate of 30,000 gallons per minute. Electric motors will drive these pumps, and the power for the motors will come over a 237-mile transmission line also constructed by the Metropolitan Water District from Boulder Dam to each of the five plants. The construction of this line was a big job in itself, and it will eventually carry 36 per cent of all the power generated at Boulder Dam.

River Shackled

The Seven Cities of Cibola sought by Cortez and his band have grown to thirteen. The "Red" river has been shackled and put to work, and in 1939 part of its flow will be taken out of its aged course and led meekly in a new direction to serve these favored thirteen. In 1540 Hernando Alarcon named its properly as "The River of Good Guidance," and 400 years later a new people have put it to work to guarantee that there shall be no drought in that part of the American desert known as Southern California. This new people may be well proud of their ingenuity in meeting a crisis, but for the future that they are guaranteeing themselves they must give part of the credit to California's "Heavenly Chinese" who taught their neighbors to pay the doctor to keep them well, not to cure them after they were sick.

THE END.

"QUACK, QUACK," SAYS DUCK ABOUT ALL POLITICAL PARTIES

A Democratic duck walked into Santa Ana during the weekend in leather shoes and when asked what he thought of the Democratic and Republican parties and all political parties in general, all he would answer was, "Quack, quack, quack!"

As the only hitch-hiking duck in America, the quacker is known as "Roosevelts," named that by his master, F. G. Clark of Corpus Christi, Tex., because of Clark's admiration for both the Roosevelts, "Teddy" and Franklin Delano.

Ferrets Out Coins

The quacker, a mallard, is provided with shoes to protect his feet on the long walks he and his master take. They're seeing Orange county now.

The duck's "stock in trade" is his unfailing ability to ferret out coins which are tucked by admirers under his feathers behind his neck. Both he and his master have come realize that ability is a real ticket.

Always maintaining his dignity, "Roosevelts" has an astute personality even when the coins fall about him "thick and fast." The pair started their trek from Corpus Christi last March, Clark said, and have had little trouble in catching automobile "lifts" from various motorists.

"Roosevelts" leads the way when they walk, sternly refusing to waddle along behind Clark. He turns this way or that at a gentle touch from Clark's cane.

$3,000 LEFT TO S. A. RESIDENTS

Fortune smiled on Mrs. Rubie Schlesinger and her daughter Miss Estelle Schlesinger, 1213 South Van Ness street with the filing of the will of the late William Prager today before Surrogate James A. Delahanty of New York City.

In the will Prager, a philanthropist, former real estate operator and former partner in the firm of Lowenfeld and Prager, left $2,000 to Mrs. Schlesinger, his niece, and $1,000 to his grand-niece, Miss Estelle Schlesinger. The remainder of his large estate is divided among others.

Names Grandson

Prager, who was 78 years old, died Jan. 7. As yet no date has been set for probating the will, which names his grandson, David A. Prager, 282 Central Park West, New York City, as executor of the estate.

Prager was a trustee of the Jewish Theological Seminary, a vice-president of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, a former director of the Hebrew Free Loan Society, and a member of the True Craftsman's Lodge of Masons for 50 years, and also a member of the Jewish Center and of the Congregation B'nai Jeshurun.

Mrs. Schlesinger is the wife of Louis A. Schlesinger, who has been connected with the automobile business in Santa Ana for many years.
Miss Schlesinger is employed by the Western Finance Company.

FIX THAT COLD!

And Fix It Right—Depend on No Mere Half-way Measures!

A cold neglected may be a cold regretted!
Many a "slight" cold has ended in flu and pneumonia.
Treat a cold quickly and treat it sensibly.

Forego "cure-alls." A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a preparation good for all kinds of ailments.

A cold also calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection.

Your Treatment!

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are what you want for a cold. First, they are a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds and nothing else.

Secondly, they are internal medication, fourfold in effect.

Here's what they do:
First, they open the bowels.
Second, they check the infection in the system.

Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack.
These four effects make a real cold treatment and in Bromo Quinine you get them all in the form of a single tablet.

The Stitch in Time!

Beat a cold to the punch. As soon as you feel any symptoms, start taking Bromo Quinine tablets at once. Two tablets every four hours will soon break up the cold.

Bromo Quinine tablets may be taken with confidence. They have been on the market for over 40 years and are the world's largest-selling cold tablets.

Bromo Quinine tablets come in 35c and 60c sizes. The 60c size is the better "buy." It gives you almost 20 per cent more for your money.

Ask for—and insist upon getting—Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets). Any attempt to sell you anything else may be viewed with suspicion.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)
NEW YORK — When Leland Stanford MacPhail resigned as general manager of the Cincinnati Reds a year ago last fall, he said that he would be back after a season's rest, and here he is.

Only a Larry MacPhail could talk the recalcitrant Brooklyn owners into agreeing on anything. Experts had been trying to do that for 18 years, but MacPhail wound up in complete charge and with a three-year contract at $20,000 a year.

MacPhail is to settle all disputes between the rival factions, and will do so with considerable authority, inasmuch as he has the backing of both the National League and a bank which the club owes $250,000.

MacPhail hasn't much in Flatbush, but he'll at least do something about it. Red-headed Larry won't sit around and let baseball shuffle for itself, with 30-year-old and out-moded methods, as do those in control of several other major league franchises.

Larry has a way of obtaining what he wants, and there is no reason to suspect that he will not be as spectacularly successful in Brooklyn as he was in Columbus and Cincinnati.

While MacPhail has no Branch Rickey and St. Louis Cardinal chain with which to work, as was the case in Columbus, nor the bankroll of Powell Crosley, Jr., which was at his command in Cincinnati, he has one of the finest franchises in the game with which to play on the banks of the Gowanus.

LARRY MACPHAIL
His Viewpoint More Aggressive

Out of Red Ink
MacPhail took Columbus out of red ink and into black in a single season, and repeated the performance in Cincinnati, where he introduced night baseball and circus stunts.

He represents the viewpoint of the younger and more aggressive baseball man.

There's never a dull moment around this fellow, who works 16 hours a day.

MacPhail views the situation very sensibly.

He helped inaugurate the play-off and bonus system in the American Association, and can be depended upon to suggest some way of maintaining interest among second division National League clubs during the waning weeks of the season.

"When things aren't going too well financially," he explains, "second only to a substantial revision of operating expenses is the problem of increasing income. One of the reasons why income frequently has not been sufficient to meet expenses in past seasons is that interest falls off as the season progresses."

HE'S NOT AFRAID
"It is impossible to sustain interest after pennant races have been decided."

"Players lose interest. They haven't anything on their minds but their pay checks. Everything is friendly. Nobody has anything to win or to lose. Nobody cares much whether they are third or fifth."

"If the players aren't interested, if the owners aren't interested, if the show that is put on clearly demonstrates those facts, how in the name of heaven can you expect the public to retain its interest, especially when money is tight?"

MacPhail has Van Lingle Mungo, Buddy Hassett, and a few more around whom to build. A Brooklyn farm system has been started, and the new director quickly will see that it is efficient.

MacPhail played minor league ball himself, and knows a ball player when he sees one. He isn't afraid to spend money—when he has it—or to trade. Mungo will go elsewhere, if the move will improve the club.

The Dodgers may be as daffy as ever under MacPhail, but they will also be a doing outfit.

TERRY SLAPS BACK AT HIS PRESS CRITICS

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK—Mincing no words, Bill Terry, the mailed-fist manager of the New York Giants, tells why he runs his club as he does in an article entitled "Terrible Terry" published in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Collaborating with Arthur Man, baseball writer, Terry explains how he became known as "What's-in-it-for-me-Terry," and defends his tactics during five years as pilot of the Giants during which he has won three pennants, finished second once, and third once.

"I am pictured as a penny-pinching, nickel-nursing, dime-digging Croesus who has one eye on the standing of the National League clubs and the other on my bank balance," Terry said. "But the reason for that state of mind is never given."

Terry said that it went back to the days when he was trying to break into baseball with the Shreveport Texas league ball club—when he was trying to get a raise from $140 to $155 a month. He was unable to support his wife at this time, he says, so he pawned his wife's engagement ring for $15.

"Whatever lust for gold—silver will do in a pinch—I may have," he said, "may be traced back to the time I and my wife lived in a second-rate Shreveport hotel room with a threadbare carpet, cracked and yellow shades, and a wardrobe curtained off in the corner."

Pointing out that he distrusts most newspapermen because of the stories written about him when he was a holdout, Terry said: "I was not deeply impressed with a craft that could violate a public trust by misinforming millions of baseball fans, intentionally or otherwise, for the sole purpose of enhancing the ball club's position in a salary discussion."

Terry dated all his troubles with reporters from his first disagreement with a sports writer who wanted Terry's home telephone number. Terry refused on the theory that "I never brought business into my home life nor have I ever brought my home into business."

Terry said this writer visited him in his hotel at Miami Beach and "partook of my liquid hospitality" and then in a condescending manner, said: "Bill, let's bury the hatchet." Terry said he refused because the proposal "seemed very inconsistent to me."

BUDGE ADVANCES IN AUSTRALIAN TENNIS

ADELAIDE, Australia — (UP) — Donald Budge of Oakland, Cal., moved into the semi-final round of the Adelaide tennis championships today along with two Australian stars and his perennial German foe, Baron Gottfried von Cramm.

Budge advanced with a 6-3, 6-3, 10-8 victory over Len Schwartz of South Australia. Gene Mako of Los Angeles, Budge's Davis Cup doubles partner, was eliminated by Jack Bromwich, young Australian star, who won by scores of 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Von Cramm defeated Vivian McGrath of Australia 6-2, 5-6, 4-6, 7-5, 6-0, while Adrian Quist of Australia eliminated George Holland of Victoria 5-7, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

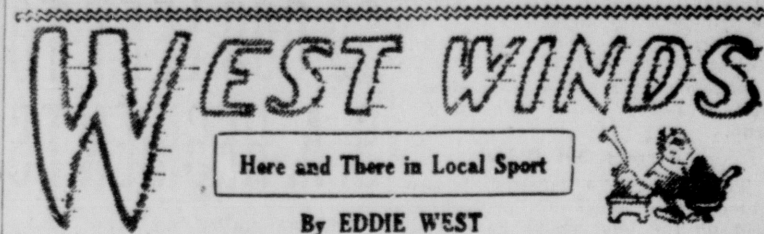

Aristocrats and plutocrats,
Bow from the waist to me—
And murmur, sweeping low their hats.
"Pray pick a steed for me!"

"The wealth and opulence of the nation, the pomp and grandeur of the world, the noted plungers and high rollers of the turf—all, all look to the great Hawkeye for advice," chuckled the noted maestro of the turf, "and rightly so," he concluded modestly.

A check-up disclosed that this was indeed so, most adamantly so, being merely a plain statement of self-evident fact. Hawkeye fans point proudly to his long and lusty record as leading handicapper, bar none, and to the fact that Hawkeye horses always win.

SPORTS-MAN-ABOUT-TOWN

Starting today, both Walker's and the State theaters will show motion pictures of the Braddock-Farr fight. The action is said to be unusually clear and the full 21 minutes filled with action. The film gives Santa Ana fans a chance to judge for themselves whether popular Jim Braddock received a "home town Irish decision" over the British champion.

Henry McLemore heads eastward tomorrow, traveling the Southern route for a stopover in Miami, where he owns a home. The young (he's 30) United Press sports expert says he has enjoyed to the utmost his first trip to the Pacific slope, and hopes to return. Usually McLemore has wintered in Florida.

Incidentally, Mac never did write anything about the Santa Ana-San Bernardino game (as promised) which he saw here.

Howard Paul, the old U. S. C. broad jumper, is going back to college. He'll return, this coming semester, to the S. C. campus where, five years ago, he compiled track history.

Now in his fourth year as a Santa Ana school teacher, "Howie" resigned from the faculty of Fremont school in a letter to the board of education last night, in which he announced that he was returning to the University to continue graduate work. The resignation is effective Jan. 28.

Watch for a flash any day now that "Tex" Oliver is the new football coach of the University of Oregon. . . or that the job goes to "Rabbit" Bradshaw. I am told the appointment will go to one of them. The other "candidates" were just out for an airing, as they say at Santa Anita. The name of Assistant Coach Glen Shields was projected into the discussion chiefly to appear as a certain scholastic and alumni faction.

I believe Oliver could have the job if he wanted it; if Bradshaw gets the call it will be because "Tex" had to have it his way and the Oregon politicians wouldn't step aside.

McLemore Draws Hollywood Moral

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD—I am leaving Hollywood in a few days, after a two months stay, and if I knew of a town whose inhabitants were as lovely, too fat or too thin, and were ill-fitting garments, I would go to that town and stay at least a month.

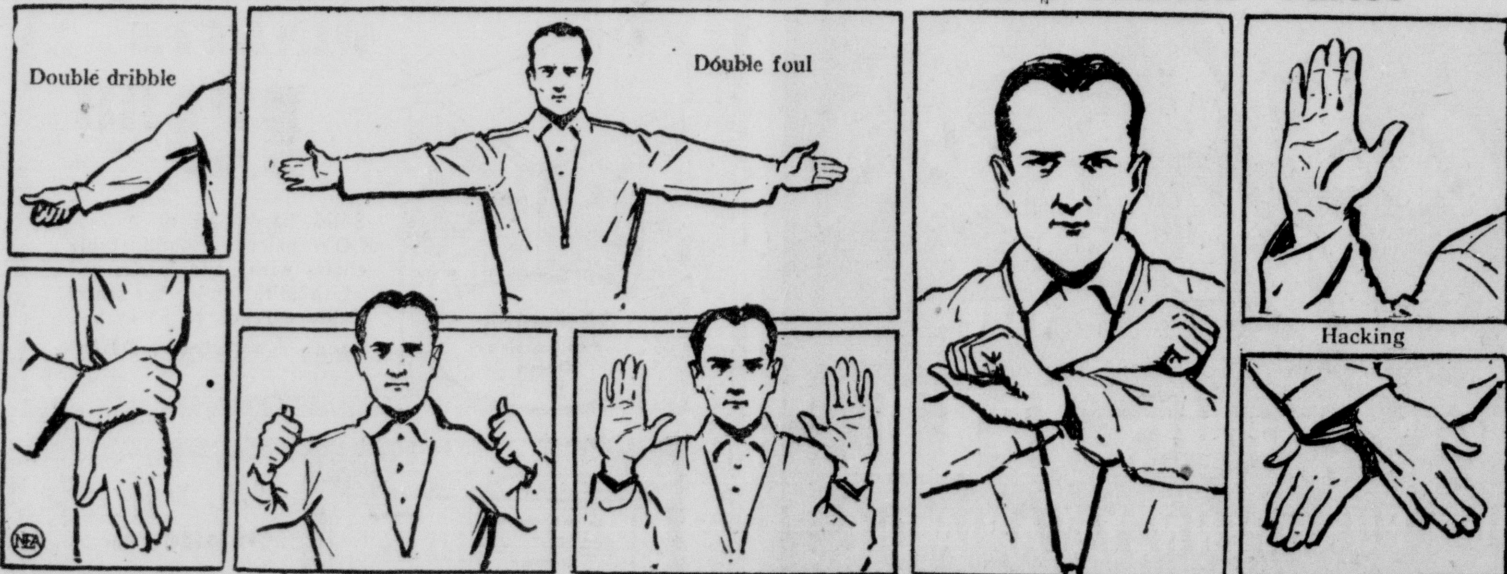

Such an unattractive municipality is just the antidote I need after having surrounded by so much beauty, good looks, and high powered tailoring for so long. Hollywood has given me such an inferiority complex regarding the way I look and the clothes I wear that if I don't do something about it soon even Dale Carnegie himself won't be able to help me. Mind you, I didn't come to Hollywood believing I looked like a collar ad—open a celluloid collar ad. On the other hand, I didn't know I resembled something the cat had planned to drag in and then thought better of after one good look. But since arriving here that knowledge has been forced upon me time and time again.

Take my arrival on the first tee at the Lakeside Golf club the other day for example. Knowing that many movie stars were members of Lakeside, and that they would be playing in the same tournament, I paid special attention to my looks when I dressed that morning. I parted my hair a new way and rivited it

Basketball Rules Standardized But Interpretation Varies

The signs shown here are those employed by officials in a basketball game. In the double dribble, or steps, the thumb is pointed out, denoting the player with the ball has broken his dribble. A double foul is indicated by outstretched arms, used when a penalty is called on two opposing players for a simultaneous infraction of the rules. Charging, or hard bodily contact, is indicated by arms, with clenched fists, crossed over the chest. Hacking is shown by the arm, palm out, moving from shoulder to hip, denoting that a defensive player has hacked at offensive shooter or dribbler in an attempt to get ball or block shot. Holding is illustrated by one hand grasping the wrist of the other. A jump ball is called with a hands out, thumbs up motion. Penalty for pushing is indicated by hands held parallel to face, palms out, and moved forward and backward vigorously. No score, or basket doesn't count, is indicated by both hands crossed back and forth vigorously at wrists.

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

Although basketball is very much standardized in regard to the rules of the game, it probably varies more in style of play throughout the country than any other major sport.

Basketball as played on the Pacific coast follows a vastly different pattern than that found in the Midwest. And by the same token the boys in the Rocky Mountain section play a much different game than that of the east or south.

According to John Bunn, Stanford coach and one of the best authorities on the game in the country, this is no unnatural phenomenon. Coaches entertain certain ideas and just don't get around to any radical departure from their systems.

Bunn, for instance, frankly and without showing any prejudice, believes that the west coast colleges play the best balanced basketball in the land.

"Out here," he says, "we don't go 'offense crazy' or spend our nights planning air-tight defenses. We try to strike a happy medium, and I believe we've found it."

DEFENSE UNIMPASSANT

Rocky Mountain schools are noted for their race-horse tendencies. In that area the field goal is supreme and the big idea is to get as many of them as possible and let the defense go hang. High-scoring games are the natural result. It's great for the spectators but competent critics hardly call it the best basketball extant.

The Midwest, adversely, is keen

GRID SPLIT TO BE EFFECTIVE IN ALL SPORTS

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — University of Pittsburgh athletic officials evaded direct comment today regarding reports that all athletic relations between Pitt and Notre Dame would terminate after a Pitt-Notre Dame basketball game on Feb. 5.

An article printed in the South Bend, (Ind.) Tribune, saying that all athletic relations between the two schools would end next month.

Apparent basis for the rumors was a reported "request" by Coach Keogan of Notre Dame that Dr. H. C. Carlson, Pitt basketball mentor, abandon the zone defense in last week's game against the Irish five. Keogan has flatly denied making such a demand but Dr. Carlson has stated he was asked to refrain from the defensive style which enabled Pitt to break even in two games with Notre Dame last year. The zone defense was not used by Pitt in last week's floor battle.

The track teams of the rival schools, after meeting for the past two seasons, are not scheduled for 1938. The annual football contests were ended last fall when Coach Jack Sutherland's eleven came from behind to beat the Irish, 21 to 6.

TIMKEN TO BE USED AS WING IN RUGBY

A significant change was made today in Santa Ana Junior college lineup which may have a direct bearing on next season's football season.

Larry Timken, speedy Don fullback of last year, will be seen in a new roll Friday night when the Don ruggers tangle with Santa Barbara State in the Municipal Bowl. Timken will be used as a wing back instead of fullback, the position he played against U.C.L.A. last week.

Coach Ernest (Sir Reginald) Buterworth, after conferring with Coach Bill Cook, decided to make the change to better prepare Timken for next fall's football campaign. As a rugby fullback, about all that was required of the fleet Don star was to punt. It also was pointed out that the change may be just the thing that is needed to snap up the Don's rugby offensive, which was totally lacking against the Bruins.

ANEROID STARTS AT SANTA ANITA TODAY

ARCADIA — (UP) — Aneroid, holder of several enviable turf victories, was scheduled to make his first start in Southern California today's $1500 La Cresta Handicap.

Winner of the 1937 Suburban Handicap and a nose behind Seabiscuit in the Brooklyn, Aneroid is J. A. Manfuso's hope for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in March.

U. S. Girl In World Skating Races

MADDY HORN

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Madeline Horn, America's lone contender for the women's world speed skating championship Oslo, Norway, learned to skate on a frozen cow pasture alongside of her father's cheese factory near Beaver Dam, Wis.

Maddy Horn's first pair of skates were of the clamp type, which she sharpened daily with a carpenter's file.

From 1926 to '29, pretty Miss Horn, now 26, was a student at Wayland Academy at Beaver Dam, where she has lived all her life. She spent the following year as a telephone operator in Milwaukee. Returning to Beaver Dam, Miss Horn organized a softball team which beat every other feminine outfit in the state, largely through its manager's home runs. A mighty maid is Maddy.

Unheralded and practically unknown, Miss Horn journeyed to St. Louis in 1933 to break a half dozen records, which she still holds and to beat Hattie Donaldson Briggs of Toronto, her closest rival, and Kit Klein and Dorothy Franey, the latter pair Olympic stars, for the senior North American indoor title.

Maddy Horn in Hurry
After Miss Klein turned professional, Dot Franey was Miss Horn's foremost opponent. Throughout a two-year stretch there was a quarrel every time they met. One or the other fell, was hit, or went sliding into the boards because the one behind kicked a blade. They resorted to hair-pulling a time or two.

Miss Horn was runner-up in the Nationals in Minneapolis in '34. A sprained Achilles' tendon prevented her from making any headway in '35. She won the Great Lakes championship and again was runner-up in the Nationals in '36.

But Miss Horn was only warming up. Last year, against the stiffest kind of competition, she bagged, among others, the National championship at Petoskey, Mich.; the North American at Saranac Lake;

'CHIEF' QUILTS AT WHITTIER

WHITTIER — Wallace (Chief) Newman announced today his resignation as Whittier college head football coach and athletic director, effective in June. A successor has not been named.

Newman's request for a salary increase had been denied recently and this was given as the reason for his decision to leave the college. He was also dissatisfied with the present athletic set-up, claiming that scholastic standards are too high to give athletes sufficient time for practice.

No successor has been named, nor have Post officials anyone in mind at present. Newman likewise has no immediate prospects.

Newman has been at Whittier since 1929.

LYNCH, N. Y. BOXING JUDGE, DROPS DEAD

NEW YORK — (UP) — Charley Lynch, veteran boxing judge, died yesterday. His last assignment was the Jim Braddock-Tommy Farr fight at Madison Square Garden Friday night, when he voted for Farr. Lynch was 47. He fell dead of a heart attack while walking with his wife.

UPSETS FEATURE 'Y' BASKETBALL GAMES

Two stubbornly contested basketball games in the Y. M. C. A. league further scrambled the percentages of the second division clubs last night. Headed by Seabiscuit, America's 1937 handicap champion, 26 thoroughbreds were today nominated for the San Pasquel Handicap at Santa Anita Saturday.

The list of nominees for the $5000 added seven-furlong fixture reads like a cross-section of the equine social register at the Arcadia course. Such stars as Pompoon, Ligaroti, Limpio, Time Supply, Aneroid, Whickee, Indian Broom, Legal Light, Boxthorn, He Did, Bill Farnsworth, Clingendael are also included in the imposing lineup.

The engagement shapes up as the most important race of the season to date and the first test for the "big horses". It is virtually a sprint preview of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap itself, and of the 26 nominated, 10 will be making their first appearance under colors this winter.

Seabiscuit, certain top weight in the affair, is the "mystery horse" of the season. Clockers have not caught him in any speed work to date and they are now working in shifts, hoping to catch a glimpse of the C. S. Howard star in something more important than a training gallop or a slow breeze.

Trainer Tom Smith, who developed him, is "concealing" his charge. Just why, nobody knows. He probably is working him by moonlight while the clockers are asleep. Smith dislikes clockers in general and has always taken some sort of delight in mixing them up. Seabiscuit was reported a "short horse" a dozen times during the summer when he was mowing down the opposition and winning his title for the year.

If Smith decides to accept the weight, which is to be assigned tomorrow, and it's hard to tell if he will, Seabiscuit will go northward a fit horse. He always has.

All of the other stars mentioned are expected to accept the issue and their workouts indicate they will be on razor edge.

In addition to those mentioned, the list also includes such good ones as Woodberry, Dogaway, Speed to Spare, Sun Egret, Gleeman, Capt. Cal, Brown Jade, San Luis Rey, High Vote, High Lark, Mr. Blaze, Keene Jack and Sky Lanty.

Neil S. McCarthy's Today, reported elsewhere as a doubtful starter in the big race, is anything but that judging from his latest trial, six furlongs in 1:11 3-5 with the three-eighths in :24, half in :45, and five-eighths in :58 1-5. It marked the first time this winter that he has been "set down" in a hard trial, and immediately afterward, McCarthy backed him down in the future books.

Today beat Omaha in the Wood Memorial as a 3-year old, then spread his foot in the Kentucky Derby and went into retirement. He has been brought along very carefully by young Hurst Philpot and is ready for an early appearance under silks.

Joe E. Brown purchased the clever sprinter, Murph, from the Milky Way stable yesterday for a price, not reported, but believed to have been $6500. He is also dickering for Nation's Taste.

In another sale, Austin C. Taylor bought Fire Marshal and First Finish and the Milky Way outfit.

Here are some career facts about the piano-playing maestro I think are interesting:

His first recording was made with the now famous Frances

First theatrical tour introduced

Dorothy Lamour to the public.

Kenny Baker got his first break

Veloz and Yolanda were the first

Not Brandwynne, who now makes music of his own for dancers,

All, along with Eddy, are doing

Duchin's "Hour of Romance" is

Lines . . . from Gotham

A week ago Sunday Benny Goodman did the daring thing and took his swingers into the hallowed

Carnegie Hall for New York's first swing concert. While the rafters boomed out a rhythm of sympathy, the long-hairs arched un-understanding eyebrows and went around muttering to one another,

"My, my! What is this world coming to?"

Our New York correspondent's review, however, we've held over until now, which (Need we tell you?) is B. Goodman's night to swing high, wide and hot on the

"Swing School." (KNX, 7)

Col. Lemuel C. Stoopnagle and

Budd, expert funnymen, are his guests, and the following notes on

Benny's Carnegie Hall debut may point up his broadcast a bit for you:

NEW YORK—"Benjamin Goodman and his vipers are scheduled for a one-night stand in Carnegie Hall January 16, replacing

Jack Barbili and his Philharmonic-Symphony cats, a regular band in that spot"—announcement in Metronome.

And if little Jackie was among those present that Sunday evening,

he must have been green with envy.

For Benny had 'em swingin' from the rafters! Yes, my friends, the term was packed and jammed.

Did they like it? Most of you have undoubtedly heard the "fitterbugs" who go to make up the audience at Goodman's Tuesday night "Swing School." Double the noise you hear coming out of your loudspeaker and you have a small idea of how Carnegie Hall rocked and rolled.

As for what actually took place, your correspondent would say that it closely resembled a two-hour session of the "Swing School" without the commercial plugs—which to us swing addicts was nothing short of Seventh Heaven.

In reading the reviews of the music critics for such esteemed papers as the New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune, we noticed a decided feeling of disappointment. Both of these critics wrote to Carnegie Hall seemingly expecting another epic such as

"Rhapsody in Blue" or Ferde

Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite." If such was the case, they must as-uredly have been disappointed, for the selections played it gave the appearance more of a top-notch "one night stand" without fanciness.

Personally, we couldn't ask for anything nicer than such selections

as "Sometimes I'm Happy" or the

"Hit the Deck" with the entire ensemble taking part, the Goodman

Quintette on "Got Rhythm," Martha Tilton sending us rocking home to "Loch Lomond," or the entire populace of the Hall almost submerging the efforts of the band on

"Bei Mir Bist Du Schon." This number seemed a neck and neck race between the audience and orchestra, which won by a nose on a fanfare finale that split the Hall wide open.

The entire organization was in illusions of grandeur were shattered. Because there stood

Adolphe Menjou. There are no tailors in my family, and haven't been for generations, but

I instinctively knew that

Menjou's outfit wouldn't room in the same clothes closet with the get-up I had on.

One look at him and I felt as a cactus plant must feel when planted next to a poinsettia in full bloom.

Then Johnny Weismuller,

playing without a shirt, strolled up. I never felt fatter and more deformed in my life. The next arrival was Dick Arlen and his outfit yielded nothing to Menjou's.

The same thing happens to me at the race track. I feel

I get all primed up and feel fairly dashing until I find myself leaning against the rail and talking to Jon Hall, Edmund Lowe and Cary Grant.

My profile seems to recede, I can feel my freckles enlarging,

and my Nos. 1 and 2 chins

bobbing in the breeze.

JUNKETING PRO

FOR OAKLAND

BY JACK GUENTHER

United Press Staff Correspondent

PASADENA.—The junketing golf professionals headed north today and with them went Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., carrying proof that a stoker may be less specular than a slugger, but he is more reliable. The $5000 Oakland

Open tournament starts Friday.

The quiet, handsome youth, who rose to fame by winning the Agua

Caliente fixture in 1935, manufactured the proof himself in the finals of the $3000 Pasadena Open.

He matched his accurate iron work and uncanny putting skill against the power of golf's heaviest hitters—and won with a new tournament record of 276 strokes.

Second highest money winner

last year, Picard is one of the few young American players who favor accuracy over distance. He seldom blazes around in the low 80's.

But he seldom goes higher than

75. His shots are smooth and highly polished, but not the type which draws gasps from the gallery.

Picard teed off at Brookside

Park course yesterday a stroke behind Jimmie Thomson, who is perhaps the most powerful shotmaker in golf. He reached the 10th hole one under par of 35, and started the long trip home. On the 13th green it was announced Jimmy

Hines of San Jose, Long Island, had posted a 273, and that Picard must shoot even par on the last five holes to win first money.

He not only did it, but finished with a stroke to spare, while Thomson saw his own chances go glimmering on the greens. Picard pared the 14th and 15th holes, then birdied the 4-par 365 yard 16th.

The tournament—and $700 first prize was won. The scores were 70-

6-171-34-35-276, two strokes under the old record held by Craig Wood.

Hines' brilliant last round of 67

boomed him into second place

when Thomson faltered, and he won

$450 with 68-69-75-67-278. Byron

Nelson of Reading, Pa., finished third a stroke behind, and pocketed $350. Thomson, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, ended up with 280, and was paid a dollar a stroke—$280.

Other money winners were: $220

Pa., 213-69-232; and Horton Smith,

Chicago, 209-72-232. $100—Harry

Cooper, Chicago, 215-68-233; and

FILING FORMS ON INCOME TAX ARE AVAILABLE

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of 26 articles that will be run in The Register. The articles, based on the Revenue Act of 1935, contain information showing details of filing income-tax returns.

Forms for filing returns of income for 1937 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time, on or before March 15 if the return is made on the calendar-year basis, as is the case with most individuals.

Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors. Persons whose net income for 1937 was derived chiefly from salary or wages and was not in excess of $5,000 should make their returns on Form 1040A.

Must Use Form 1040

Persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000, or, regardless of amount, was derived from a business, profession, rents, or sale of property, are required to use Form 1040. Failure to use the proper form presents difficulties to both the taxpayer and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Therefore, it is emphasized that a taxpayer engaged in a business or profession from which he derived a net income of less than $5,000 is required to use Form 1040.

The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1938. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

Records of 15 nations show that 8,461,595 men were killed and 21,099,335 wounded in the World War.

DRUNK-DRIVING CASE BARRED IN TRIAL OF CIVIL ACTION

No record of a drunk driver's conviction is admissible as evidence in any court in any civil action, Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the California highway patrol, Orange county unit, said today in presenting answers to a series of questions asked by interested motorists.

Income-Tax Don'ts

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions accompanying the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

TOWNSEND TOPICS

Many of the Townsend clubs over the 19th congressional district recently have sent in their questionnaires giving the names and addresses of the newly elected officers and other club information. This information should be sent to no one but the headquarters, and not any individual. One striking point in the report is the number of paid up members, and as compared with the old sheet the membership has double in some clubs, has increased considerably in nearly every club, and only one club reports a falling off in membership, that is a club in Riverside county.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend has approved the order sent out in bulletins in the 19th congressional district relative to the delivery of petitions to the three different places ready to be delivered to him who in turn will present them to Governor Frank P. Merriam. Dr. Townsend states that he will deliver the petitions in person to Governor Merriam when and at the time of the special session of the state legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. W. Smith of Garden Grove were callers at these headquarters early Monday morning. Mrs. Smith is president of Townsend Club No. 1 of Garden Grove and she is very proud of her active club. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Francis E. Townsend at Long Beach Saturday, but unfortunately the Doctor was in Los Angeles on business; however, they had a very pleasant visit with Mrs. Townsend with whom they are well acquainted.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hubbard who formerly lived at Garden Grove have moved back from Ventura where they have been residing for a few months and will make their home in the future at Garden Grove. Dewey Hubbard was president of Townsend Club No. 1 of that little city for some time.

The speaking calendar is pretty filled this week at the Townsend headquarters. W. R. Cogswell of San Bernardino will be on the program at 7:30 Tuesday night. Attorney George W. Higgins of Los Angeles will be heard Thursday night and Saturday night Judge M. C. Summers will be the high light of the week. Attorney Higgins will be the speaker for Club No. 3 of Santa Ana Thursday night, and his popularity as one of the high powered speakers of Southern California assures Club No. 3 of a filled house. The staging of the Saturday night speaker is in the hands of Townsend Club No. 10, with Mrs. Edith Pauli as president of the club. A special program is now being arranged and will be announced in a day or so in this column.

Mrs. Cora Smith, wife of Mr. J. P. W. Smith, president of Townsend Club No. 1 of Garden Grove announces that they will have an oyster supper at their club meeting Monday night, January 31. They will have a good speaker for the occasion whose name will be announced a little later. Keep watch of this column to keep in tune with the Townsend orchestra.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend in a statement received at headquarters here, says: "This year we are going to choose the candidate, and not permit the candidate to choose us. Past experience has shown that when such a hit-and-miss policy is followed, we come into the campaign with our support pledged, in many instances, to men who are not qualified for the office and have no chance for election. Not only do we want strong able men whom we can elect, but men who, when elected, will prove powerful champions of our cause in congress."

in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25. — If Darryl Zanuck of Twentieth Century-Fox feels a bit chesty just now, I can't blame him for he has accomplished—and keeps on accomplishing—something that most of his fellow producers considered an impossibility. Starting from scratch, with only two big-name stars on his contract list, he not only has produced profitable pictures but, in the process, has built up one of the most brilliant collections of stellar personalities in the business. He has recruited rank newcomers and made them not only successful without spending a fortune in the process.

Shirley Temple was already a big star—Zanuck has made her still bigger. Three years ago, Hollywood had never heard of Don Ameche, Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power and the Ritz Brothers. Zanuck made them headline attractions. In George Sanders, Marjorie Weaver, Virginia Field and Arlene Whelan, he has sure-fire star material. Alice Faye and Loretta Young have been lifted from near the bottom to near the top of the Hollywood ladder.

The biggest producers in this business have always contended that big stars make big pictures. I think that Zanuck has proved most conclusively that good pictures make big stars. And the sooner the rest of the studio bosses adopt his point of view, the better it will be for the picture industry, in my opinion.

WALNUT GROUP
PLANS STUDY OF VITAL MATTERS

Assembling from all parts of Southern California, approximately 300 walnut growers, representing the majority of walnut production groups in the state, will meet at the Frances Willard Junior high school auditorium Feb. 11, it was announced today by Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor.

The institute, held under the auspices of the Edible Nut department of the Farm Bureau and the Agricultural Extension Service, will discuss vital problems confronting the walnut industry.

"The program as arranged for this year is very well rounded," Wahlberg stated, "covering walnut pests, walnut soil fertility, orchard management, and walnut marketing. In addition to these features, state and national agricultural policies will be discussed by E. C. Kimball, vice-president of the California Farm Bureau Federation."

J. A. Smiley, chairman of the state department, says that such a program as this is well worth the time of any walnut grower and urges a large attendance by Orange County growers. Speakers scheduled for the institute are A. M. Boyce, W. R. Schoonover, O. L. Braucher, W. E. Goodspeed, Carlyle Thorpe, and H. S. Stradman, assuring a program of high quality and interest to the industry.

Tickets will be sold at the ballroom to those who have not obtained them before the night of the dance.

MODERATOR TO SPEAK SUNDAY
AT S. A. CHURCH

"Dedication Week" for Santa Ana's new $75,000 First Presbyterian church, which started last Sunday with dedication of the Emma Rankin memorial organ and the Harry H. Ball memorial chimes, will end next Sunday night with a sermon by the Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church. The service will start at 5 p. m.

Announcement that the national leader of the Presbyterian church would deliver the address marking dedication of the church to service was made today by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the Santa Ana church. The Rev. Mr. Foulkes also is pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Newark, N. J.

Capacity Audience
Last night marked another capacity audience for "Dedication Week" services when pastors and congregations of all churches of the city were special guests of the Presbyterian congregation.

The address on behalf of the ministers of the city was given by the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church and dean of Santa Ana ministers. O. H. Barr spoke on behalf of the members of the various churches.

Reception Held
Music for the evening was provided by the Presbyterian Cathedral choir, under direction of Whitford Hall, minister of music for the church.

Following the services in the church open house and a reception were held in the Fellowship building.

EXPANSION OF SEA SCOUT WORK SEEN AS OUTCOME OF CONCLAVE

Plans for extension of Sea Scouting in Orange county and all of Southern California will be discussed at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow during a dinner conference to be held at Wilson's cafe, Newport Beach.

The meeting was originally arranged by Harrison White, county executive for the Boy Scout organization, and officials of the Sea Scout group, as a conference of skippers and mates of the various Sea Scout Ships in the county.

Many Groups To Attend
Later developments in the proposed expansion program, however, resulted in invitations being sent to Scout organizations in Los Angeles, Riverside, Pomona and Glendale. All these groups will be represented at the dinner.

White said today that the natural advantages offered at Newport Harbor makes Newport-Balboa the logical center for Sea Scout activities in Southern California. Discussion of the possibility of centering these activities at the harbor will be the principal topic for discussion at the dinner.

Approximately $1 out of every $8 collected for taxes in the United States is paid by the motorists.

HAYES EXPECTED TO BE U. S.
WITNESS IN LOTTERY CASE

Edward F. Hayes, Los Angeles liquor dealer, pleaded guilty today to conspiracy charges based on an alleged lottery in connection with the running of the 1936 Christmas Day handicap at Santa Anita, and probably will be used as a government witness to testify against 12 others, with whom he is jointly accused.

Seven others pleaded not guilty to the charge and their trial date will be set in federal court on Feb. 7.

Those who pleaded not guilty were Floyd W. Howard, chief of police in Santa Ana; Henry W. McKague, former federal prohibition agent; Ernest N. Winbiger, of Santa Ana; Charles R. Ross, Arthur L. Vendree, C. W. Hutchings and Howard S. Atcheson.

Five others also named in the indictment are sought. They are Frank N. Thayer, Walter S. Olsen, George Niotta, George W. Luigart and Frank F. Gowen.

The indictment was based on a charge that the men had participated in a $3,000,000 lottery scheme in violation of the United States customs laws.

1938-39 Calendar
For Schools Set
By Local Board

Next year's school calendar for Santa Ana was adopted by the board of education last evening, and provides:

1—School will open September 12—one week after Labor Day—and will close June 16, 1939. The term will last 40 weeks.

2—Christmas vacation of two weeks will start December 16 and close January 3.

3—Easter vacation will begin April 2 and end April 8.

4—Other holidays include Armistice Day, Thanksgiving (two days) and Memorial Day.

Advances in fuel mean as much as advances in engine design—perhaps more.

Music Enjoyed
By Guests At Buffet Supper

Any hospitality extended by the Clarence Gustlin in his home, 316 North Main street, is almost certain to have music as one of its component elements, as was the case Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin presented a buffet supper complementing a group of friends from various Southland districts.

Presence of two such noted singers as Eleanor Woodford Pryor of Los Angeles, and Stanley Kurtz of El Modena, would insure that spirits of supper guests might mount "On Wings of Song," especially with the assistance of the host not only as accompanist but as piano soloist. Operatic and concert numbers were sung both by Mrs. Pryor and Mr. Kurtz, and Mr. Gustlin played among other brilliant numbers, the Rigoletto Paraphrase and the Chinese group interest at the Y. W. tea in his studio late last week.

Prominent among the supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Morton E. Finch of Memphis, Tenn., who are here for a mid-winter visit with their son and daughter-in-law, the Braden Finches of North Flower street. Their pleasure in meeting some of the musical "friends of their supper hosts" was enhanced by the beauty of the program. Mrs. Gustlin's mother, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, and the Charles Pritchards comprise Santa Anas present with the well-known Southland artist, Frank Cuprien of Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruby, Fullerton; Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnston, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kurtz, El Modena; Mr. and Mrs. Ford Pryor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tenney Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Harvey, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Seamans, Mrs. Emma J. Curtin, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walls, Yorba Linda; Dr. and Mrs. Charles Edmunds, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Lyman, and Miss Lyman, Mrs. Gilbert Brink and Dr. and Mrs. Hilton, Claremont.

Bridge Club Members Present Gift to
Mrs. Hoffman

Special party features added to the enjoyment of a bridge club event last night in the home of Mrs. Walter Markel, 1429 South Main street where members assembled in honor of Mrs. Bert Hoffman. She received a bathinette as a gift of the group.

Card played yielded prizes for two members, Mrs. Perry Davis and Miss Geraldine Haupt. The hostess had planned a delightful refreshment interval, serving pineapple sundaes and wafers at tables centered with stork figures bearing doll babies. Pink and blue cutnups were of baby carriage design.

With Mrs. Markel and the hostesses, Mrs. Hoffman were Mesdames Albert Banks, Perry Davis, Burley Durbin, Lawrence Haupt, Albert Markel, A. Ryherd and Misses Bernice Borchard, Geraldine Haupt, Irene Ravenkamp and Estelle Schlesinger.

SAIL FOR HONOLULU

When the S. S. Lurline sailed this weekend from Wilmington for the Hawaiian Islands, fins were written to the Southland visit of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Culter of New Westminster, B. C., who sailed for Honolulu after an extended stay in this city. They had been guests of Mr. Culter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Culter, 823 South Van Ness avenue.

"The British Columbia residents spent a few weeks in the Southland, devoting some time to relatives and friends in San Diego as well as this community. While with the Culters in this city, they enjoyed reunions with other relatives and old friends, several of whom went to the boat to bid them bon voyage. Several of the group had dinner aboard the Lurline.

Since Mrs. H. M. Culter was unable to accompany the group to Wilmington, she received a telephone call from her son just as the Lurline was ready to leave. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Culter plan to remain on the islands for more than a month, then returning to their home in the north. They have been frequent visitors in this city during the past few years.

Two Youthful Artists
Delight
Ebell Society Members

Not only their undoubted talents and musicianship, but their fresh and buoyant youth, made the two guests artists, Michael Sorenson, baritone, and Richard Tetley-Kardos, pianist, of outstanding interest when they appeared yesterday afternoon before Santa Ana Ebell society.

The clubhouse auditorium was comfortably well filled, and seldom has an audience expressed warmer appreciation. Each individual group presented by the young men elicited long applause until the individual artist returned to bow his acknowledgment. The final group was followed by the single encore number given, Jacques Wolfe's little Negro melody, "Short-nin' Bread," and again the two young artists had to return to accept the applause tendered them.

Perhaps the fact that Michael Sorenson had sung in this city as a boy soprano with the Whitney Boys' choir of Portland, increased interest in his return. For not always do youthful soloists develop into artists of such caliber. For his opening group he chose the Largo from Handel's "Xerxes," strongly dramatic in contrast with "When I Have Sung My Songs" by Ernest Charles and Charles Wakefield Cadman's "Service," which he dedicated to his hostess club.

The work of Tetley-Kardos as accompanist prepared his audience for the strength and beauty of his piano solos, and his first group proved his right to that title frequently bestowed upon him of "The Poet of the Piano." For he plays with a strikingly poetic feeling, without losing in power and volume. A Chopin "Mazurka" and "Waltz in E Minor" and the Liszt arrangement of Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song" comprised his opening solo group, and later on the program he offered an entirely different mood, the "Rondo Francaise" by a modern German composer, Goldman, written as he explained, in the style and feeling of the old French dances; ending with two Debussy compositions, the tenderly exquisite "Clair de Lune" and a definitely whimsical number, "Doctor Gradus and Parnassum" from the suite, "The Children's Hour." It was interesting to see the manner in which one so thoroughly at home with the classics of Chopin and Mendelssohn, could give himself over to the modern idiom of Debussy.

The two remaining baritone groups sung by Sorenson included in the first, "Tally Ho" (Leon); "Nocturne" (Pearl Curran) and "The Last Song" (James H. Rogers). These with the final vocal group, expressed the same variety that the piano numbers did. The songs ending the program were a request number, "I Love Life," by Manna Zucca; two of Kathleen Lockhart Manning's compositions, "a Luxembourg Garden" and "Shoes," and Mellott's "Song of the Open Road."

The artists were presented by Mrs. Roy V. Shafer, chairman of the program committee, following a very brief interval devoted to business. Mrs. R. S. Thomson presided, and called attention to coming club events including the county executive board meeting on February 11 in La Habra when both district and state presidents will be in attendance; the Child Study section benefit card party on the evening of February 14, and the next general club program on the afternoon of the same date, presenting Mrs. Jack Valley.

She also announced the receipt of an Ebell bequest from the late Miss Sedalia Cubbison, with $500 to be added to the building fund and $150 to the day nursery.

Young People Spend
Weekend at Big Bear

Big Bear, with several inches of snow and ideal weather for mild winter sports attracted a group of young people from this community over the weekend, when Cecil Starnes and Tom Cuddy Jr., opened their families' mountain cabins to the merry-makers.

Mr. Starnes had planned the affair, and when the size of the party reached such proportions that another cabin was needed, Mr. Cuddy came to the rescue. Fred Devenney aided in making arrangements for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Epperly were chaperones for the group, who included Jack Livesey, Rex Parks, Fred B. Krohe, Howard Quiggle, Tom Cuddy Jr., Jack Hubbard, Charles Dawson, Dearing Waggoner, Horace Birdsall, Jack Newton, Lowell Hart, Walter Nankervis, R. K. Mr. and Mrs. Smiley

With a half century of wedded life now accomplished, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley, 2800 North Flower street, today were starting on the way towards their diamond celebration, after having given due observance to their golden wedding day yesterday. —Photo by Mary Smart.

Golden Anniversary Given
Observance In Smiley Home

When, after a half century of wedded life, every year of which has been spent in one community, a celebration is staged as was the case yesterday in the J. A. Smiley home, 2800 North Flower street, the observance is shared by hundreds of the close friends gained by fifty golden years of activity in church, social and civic affairs.

It was in Chicago, Ill., on January 24, 1888 that two young Kansans, Miss Fannie May Jones and James A. Smiley, were wedded immediately following the young bridegroom's return from California where he had visited with an idea of locating. The trip to the Golden State provided the honeymoon for the young people, and they came directly to this vicinity where a golden honeymoon is now in prospect.

Again will this honeymoon end with transcontinental travel, for later this week, Mr. and Mrs. Smiley will depart for Florida for a late winter visit. They will take with them, recollections of a golden anniversary as happy in its way, as the wedding in 1888 that inspired it. For everything seemed to conspire to make yesterday a day long to be remembered.

Although 3 to 7 o'clock had been indicated for an hour, early morning brought gifts of flowers, and by the opening hours of the afternoon the home was like a California garden with every blossom that the semi-tropical climate can boast. Friends followed the flowers and there was a steady coming and going until late evening hours, when the celebration culminated with a traditional family oyster supper.

Each year, the Smileys enjoy this oyster supper, and as their children have grown to manhood and womanhood, they too have followed the tradition, so it was in the home of a son-in-law and daughter, the Lisle J. Sherwins, 2730 North Flower street, that last night's party was held. It commemorated a similar supper staged on the eve of the wedding half a century ago, and at which guests included J. T. Raitt, dairyman of this city, who enjoys recalling details of that gay party.

All of Mr. and Mrs. Smiley's children and "children-in-law" were present yesterday to join them in the happy anniversary for arrival in the forenoon of O. W. Robinson from Honolulu, completed the family group. Mrs. Robinson (Isabel Smiley) came from their island home in time to join the family Christmas celebration.

Flower leis were a gala event, as he came bearing island leis, two golden ones for the celebrants. He presented these at the beginning of the afternoon celebration, placing them around the shoulders of the bride and groom. For Mrs. Robinson he brought long like carved ivory against the henna lace of her formal gown.

Mrs. Smiley wore orchids whose tones blended beautifully with her graceful gown of lace in tone just slightly darker than the orchids. She carried two charming clusters of flowers in French bouquet effect and her "bridegroom" wore a boutonniere in addition to his golden lei.

Daughters and daughters-in-law as assistant hostesses, all wore rosebud corsages with their pretty formal gowns. In addition to Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Lisle Sherwin was in deep blue lace; Mrs. Andrew Smiley of Garden Grove, chose a taffeta frock in duobornet and deep blue, and Mrs. R. Deane Smiley was in flower-printed taffeta. The latter was in charge of the guest book each caller was asked to sign. Assisting them and their husbands throughout the afternoon and evening, were the Donald Smileys, nephew and niece of the hosts. Mrs. Donald Smiley wore black taffeta with white flowered black chiffon bolero.

The three young daughters of the Andrew Smiley home added in various capacities in the dining room, Miss Louise wore turquoise organza; Miss Elma Mae was in

Winter Sports Enjoyed
By Christian Chums
At Forest Home

Such mountain sports as skiing and tobogganing were made possible by the snowfall at Forest Home, for a merry group of members of Chums' class of First Christian church.

"Chums' Lodge," the Forest Home cabin of Cotton Bennett, an alumni member of the class, was scene of the outing which began for a few of the members on Friday night. This first group motoring up to the popular mountain resort included Harold Hallowell, Mac Hallowell, J. R. Porter and Norman Pyatt. They were joined Saturday afternoon by Al Manning, Babe Gordon, Dale Heinley, Harold Dotson and Clyde Seiden, and the party was completed by the arrival early Sunday morning of the class teacher, M. D. Haskell, accompanied by Norman Haskell, Jimmie Adams, Dick Rutledge, Keith Hoffmaster and Herbert Frieble.

This final group arrived well in time for a typical camp breakfast, and all took part in the day's snow sports, working up fine appetites for the dinner enjoyed in the early afternoon hours. Devotionals at 3 o'clock in which all joined, brought a close to the enjoyable outing.

Church Rites
Unite Pair In Garden Grove

Two hundred guests assembled in Garden Grove First Baptist church last night for a pretty ceremony uniting two well known families of the neighboring community, when Miss Twila Jean Hunt, daughter of Mrs. Elva Hunt became the bride of Clyde James Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Henry.

Tall white tapers rising from candelabra lighted the altar, which presented a lovely appearance with calla lilies arranged against a background of palms. Miss Elizabeth Lehman was at the organ, playing several solos as well as accompaniment for Miss Marjorie Allen, who sang "Calm As the Night" and "Because." The musical program conformed to tradition as both the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin (Wagner) and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were played.

The Rev. W. J. Keech, pastor of the church, read the 8 o'clock nuptials during which Kenneth Hunt gave his sister in marriage. The bride was attired in a gleaming satin gown fashioned with fitted bodice and leg o' mutton sleeves. The folds of her graceful net veil were caught to her hair with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of Tailsman roses.

Attendants
Miss Faria Nell Clayton of Santa Ana, as maid of honor, was attractive in her blue taffeta frock with red and white and a bouquet of sweetpeas whose pastel tints emphasized the tones of her costume. Bridesmaids were Miss Jeannette Edwards of Anaheim, Miss Lillian Crane and Miss Frances Hammon of Garden Grove. Their taffeta frocks, each in a different rose tint, were designed with full skirts banded with velvet. Rannunculus in vivid shades formed their bouquets. Earl Henry, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Fred Jones of Bakersfield, Walter Clark and Cecil Weaver. Little Miss Virginia Lewis as flower girl wore ruffled pink organza.

Members of the bridal party and the immediate families were received in the home of Mrs. Hunt, Seventeenth street, Garden Grove. Mrs. Hunt wore black lace and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henry, was in blue crepe. Each wore a corsage cluster of hyacinths.

Three-tiered wedding cake topped with bride and bridegroom figures was served with coffee. The bride couple left for their honeymoon trip, the new Mrs. Henry traveling in a black wool suit with small hat and veil and peach-hued blouse.

In Midway City
Midway City will be the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry, who will reside at 126 Hazard street. The bridegroom, a graduate of Garden Grove High school class of 1932, is employed with George A. Berlin Wholesale Florists of Garden Grove. His bride was graduated from Garden Grove High school last year.

Flowers from the gardens of the Andrew Lykke home, decked the clubhouse, to which potted ferns and other plants contributed additional springtime charm.

Mrs. Robert Sandon, general chairman of the dance; Mrs. Charles Leimer, Legion Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Geneva Welch, drill team business manager, were in the receiving line.

A broom dance and other special numbers including a Paul Jones were introduced early in the evening. Lacy Swain's orchestra played.

Article, Story, Verse
Are of Interest to Quill Pen Group

Two guests, Mrs. William Kennedy and Miss Loretta Cole, shared Quill Pen club's program with members entertained last night in the home of Mrs. S. B. Marshall, 323 South Garnsey street.

It was a particularly pleasant evening, for not only were manuscripts interestingly varied, but Mrs. Marshall kept a fire glowing in friendly fashion on the hearth and established the air of intimacy that is always a charm at such club affairs.

Mrs. Blanche Brown's article on "Is Writing Your Hobby?" met with keen interest and was analyzed in detail through a discussion period. Mrs. Harry M. Smith's clever verses met the same interested response as did Mrs. U. V. Vlau's short story. Mrs. Smith's poems were: "Mahomet's Magic," "Silver Crown," "Seams that Seem Untrue," "Applesauce" and "Caprice," all invested with subtle humor. Mrs. Vlau's story was "Grandma's Day," a tale of autumn romance with a spirited climax.

Mrs. Vlau received congratulations of her sister club members for her success in the one-act play-writing contest just concluded by Santa Ana Community Players. She was the fourth member of the club to place in these annual contests, and her play, "Poor Uncle Willie," will be one of four presented the night of March 4 in Ebell auditorium.

When Mrs. Marshall served refreshments at the close of the program she was assisted by Miss Cole and Mrs. Vlau. The latter will be hostess on February 14 in her home, 325 South Orange street. Orange. Manuscripts will be due from Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Harnois and Mrs. Elliott.

Present last night with hostess, special guests and those on the program were Miss Verna Wells, Mesdames Marshall Harnois, Roy Winchester, Frank Wilsey, Katherine Conover, Frank Was, Maynard Thompson, Marah Adams and Emmett Elliott.

Auxiliary Drill Team
Gives Benefit Dance

Santa Ana Legion Auxiliary drill team members were successful dance hostesses Saturday night when they received 70 couples at benefit affair held in Orange Woman's clubhouse. Proceeds will go to the team's convention fund.

Flowers from the gardens of the Andrew Lykke home, decked the clubhouse, to which potted ferns and other plants contributed additional springtime charm.

Mrs. Robert Sandon, general chairman of the dance; Mrs. Charles Leimer, Legion Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Geneva Welch, drill team business manager, were in the receiving line.

A broom dance and other special numbers including a Paul Jones were introduced early in the evening. Lacy Swain's orchestra played.

VISITING OLD FRIENDS

Visiting with old friends in this city is Mrs. General Lawson of Battle Creek, Mich., who arrived last night in company with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lawson and Ben Johnston of Vincennes, Ind.

The group was entertained at dinner last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Richards on Cypress avenue. The Earl Lawsons and Mr. Johnston now are in Los Angeles, planning to depart Wednesday for the east. Mrs. General Lawson is remaining in this city to visit with friends including the J. T. Woods and the Willard Swains.

PARTY PLANS

Plans for a party to be held on the evening of February 11 were made by members of Kappa Delta Chi sorority last night when they met in Chicago College of Beauty building on North Main street.

Program of the evening was given by Mr. Seigelman of Hollywood, make-up stylist who gave an interesting demonstration.

Magnolia Camp
Staff Begins
New Activity

Magnolia camp R. N. A. held open installation of officers last night in Veterans hall, where more than 200 members and guests assembled to witness the ceremonies at which Mrs. Nettie Smith became oracle to succeed Mrs. Gertrude Birt.

Potted palms and tall baskets of poinsettias formed a background for events of the evening. Those taking part in the rites contributed to the impressive scene with their lovely costumes. Incoming officers were in white, carrying sprays of pastel-tinted sweet peas.

On the installing staff were Mrs. Christiana Hamill of Los Angeles, state supervising deputy, who wore royal blue satin; Mrs. Dean Laub of this city, ceremonial marshal, dressed in printed taffeta; Mrs. Lenore Fletcher of Long Beach, district deputy who served as ceremonial chancellor, wearing a dark blue frock.

Escort team members wore pastel-tinted formals and carried staffs topped with flower clusters. In the group were Mrs. Harry Fink, Mrs. Lynn Scott, Miss Erlene Farmer and Miss Nina Jude Robertson.

New Officers
Installed were Nettie Smith, oracle; Gertrude Birt, past oracle; Lenora Farmer, chancellor; Laura Dunlap, recorder; Marguerite Crawford, receiver; Fern Willis, marshal; Mary Gross, assistant marshal; Gertrude Gross, inner sentinel; Jean Tibbetts, outer sentinel; Fredricka Miller, manager; Grace Gross, musician; Agnes Buckwalter, flag bearer; Kristine Nielsen, Gladys Harman, Ruth Dunlap, Ethel Knox and Mary Schrock, the graces, faith, courage, modesty, unselfishness and endurance.

The program of the evening was composed of a song, "Springtime" sung by Nina Jude Robertson, accompanied by Elma Mae Hoxie; vocal solo by Jack Sampack, accompanied by Mrs. Sampack; tenor solo, "Because," by Odelle Jordan, accompanied by Mrs. Jay Myers. Presentation of gifts to officers and installing staff members was made by Mrs. Smith. Dancing was enjoyed following the ceremonies. Announcement was made that Magnolia Circle will hold an all day meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Grace Gross, 423 East Pine street.

IN CORONA HOME

Mrs. Leon Lauderbach and daughter, Miss Ruth Marie Lauderbach, 1805 Spurgeon street, were joined by a neighborhood group for a trip to Corona Saturday for luncheon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blair.

Mrs. Blair, the former Miss Marjorie Lauderbach, had invited the group of close friends to spend an informal day with her. Amber glassware appointed the luncheon table, which bore a pretty centerpiece of rannunculus. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon.

CATHARTICS
GOT YOU DOWN?

If you have common constipation, due to lack of bulk in the diet, harsh purgatives don't get the cause of the trouble. Often they leave you weakened. It is better to eat a natural laxative food. Try regular breakfasts of Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains vitamin B—the intestinal tract's great tonic. And All-Bran provides "bulk." It absorbs moisture, softens like a sponge, and forms a mass that aids elimination. Eat this crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water and join the "regulars." Made by Kellogg at Battle Creek.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

SIMPLE JUSTICE

Carl is eight and Bruno is four. They get along pretty well as a rule, but occasionally they meet head-on and there is a brief time of confusion and the sound of battle. Mother pays scant attention, knowing it is better to let them adjust things for themselves.

Carl was putting a wing on his airplane. It was a fussy job, so Bruno was not allowed to help. "You play with something else until I finish. Then I'll go out and have a catch with you," said Carl.

"Well, hurry up," said Bruno. "It was no hurry-up job and Bruno grew impatient. 'Aw, hurry up, will you? Going to be all day? Hurry up!'"

"Let me alone. I can't hurry with you nagging me all the time. Shut up and play yourself."

Bruno looked around to see what he could play with that would annoy Carl most. His searching eye lit upon Mac, Carl's adored Scottie. Joyously he pounced on Mac, hugged him to the sofa and began stroking him the wrong way. Mac jumped down and tried to get under the sofa, but Bruno caught him. He put the little dog in the big chair and tried to make him bite his paw. By and by Mac longed enduringly, yelped, then snarled. Instantly Carl was upon Bruno. With one hand he rescued Mac and with the other smacked Bruno.

"You let me alone, you big stiff. I'll tell mother on you. See if I don't, and you'll get it. I did not hurt your old dog."

"You did so. And if you don't let Mac alone, I'll smack you into a peaked hat and knock the peak off. Mind that."

Carl went back to work; Bruno subsided on the sofa, flat on his front, to study a book of animals. Things seemed peaceful enough, but Gran had heard and seen the scolding, and she thought it dreadful for Carl to slap his brother and to threaten him so.

"I do think you ought to correct him for it, Mary," said she to the mother of the combatants.

"Nonsense, mother. Carl never hurts him. He rarely slaps him. He needed a slap. He knows better than to torment the dog. He didn't care what he did as long as he could attract Carl's attention. I can't slap him, but if his brother does, in simple justice, it is quite all right. You see he thinks so, too, for he isn't making any complaint and he would be right here with his sad tale if he had any."

Children profit by each other's criticism and correction. It does not do for brothers and sisters many years older than the children to boss them and slap them and push them around. The older ones are too close to being adult. But between those of comparative equality in childhood the exchange of brotherly and sisterly admonition is not at all bad.

The same thing happens on the playground. One child will try to get attention, or perhaps the best of a situation, by unsocial ways and the other will slap him. That is no crime. Let them settle things between themselves. Interfere only if one child is much older than the other. That is where education stops and bullying begins.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY BEACH C. OF C.

COUNTY HEARS PROPERTY PLEA

Whether or not the board of supervisors will appropriate funds from the gasoline tax, under provisions of a constitutional amendment, to save the property of Henry Burdoff, Fullerton rancher, depends upon the result of an investigation to be conducted by Supervisor Harry Riley.

Burdoff and his two attorneys, Lloyd Verry and Gus Hagenstein, also of Fullerton, appeared before the board today and asked for help in saving his property from foreclosure because of delinquent improvement bonds.

District Created
In 1926 a special improvement district was created in Fullerton to install culverts and drainage ditches at a cost of approximately $44,000. Burdoff, owner of a 17-acre orange grove in the district, protested formation of the area but was overruled and forced to shoulder approximately $9000 of the total. He alleges the work is of no benefit to his property.

Since 1926, according to Burdoff, he has paid $7834 in principal and interest on the bonds and still owes approximately $5000 for which foreclosure proceedings have been started by the bond holders.

Cites Amendment
He asked the county for help in saving his property under provisions of an amendment adopted by the last state legislature permitting counties to use gasoline tax funds in correcting injustices under the provisions for creating special districts. Riley will make a report to the board next Tuesday.

SEEK FUNDS TO BUILD DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(UP)—The purpose of President Roosevelt's special message to Congress asking supplemental national defense funds is to make the United States impregnable to foreign invasion, administration officials asserted today.

In addition to an expected request for funds to start construction of two additional battleships, two or more fast scout cruisers and other surface vessels, the message will ask for appropriations to remedy what both army and navy officials regard as the present alarming shortage of ammunition, ammunition making machinery, anti-aircraft guns, searchlights, fire control machinery, and other equipment which the military men call "material," officials said.

The message is expected to go to Congress about the end of this week. The amount it will ask still is uncertain.

Officials said that the President will ask for funds with which to make national defense adequate to guarantee protection against invasion during the construction of the warships which will be capable of carrying war to the enemy's territory, if war comes.

The machinery and equipment which can be purchased with these funds will be sufficient to wipe out several "bottle necks" which exist in national defense, officials said. One of these is the serious lack of adequate modern machinery for the manufacture of munitions on rush order. Between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 will be asked by the President, they said, for modern powder making machinery.

Another $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 will be asked for the purchase of additional, modern anti-aircraft guns and other anti-aircraft equipment. The goal of the army high command in this respect is to acquire sufficient anti-aircraft equipment for a full army for immediate service in the field, and still have sufficient equipment in reserve for the defense of strategic population centers.

SIX INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

Santa Ana had its share of the county's traffic accidents yesterday and last night as six persons were reported injured, four in the city.

Orval Love, 448 North Parton, suffered a fracture of the left foot yesterday afternoon at Spurgeon and 10th streets when his motorcycle and a car driven by Clarence Wynant, 53, 1211 North Van Ness, collided. Love's small brother, riding with him, Officer William Nielsen reported, escaped injury.

Near-disaster to a bus loaded with school children and driven by Clyde Swenson, Placentia, came yesterday afternoon when a gasoline truck operated by Ben Drake, 30, Silver Acres, and a car operated by Simon Tucker, 90, Anaheim, collided at Melrose and Orange-thorpe roads, near Placentia.

Two Are Injured
According to Highway Patrolman Horace Inge, the truck swerved and turned over, completely blocking the road in the path of the oncoming bus. Inge said the truck's brakes and stopped the bus less than 20 feet from the truck, the officer said. Drake suffered fractured nose and lacerations. Tucker, cuts and bruises. Both were taken to Fullerton general hospital for treatment.

Two hitch-hikers, John Bortsch and Valeria Fry, were the indirect cause of an accident yesterday afternoon near the Bolsa Chica. A car club, police indicated. According to Floy Plaskette, 32, Long Beach school teacher, she stopped her car to pick the hitch-hikers up and a car driven by Gerald Wentzell, 29, Newport Beach, collided with the rear of her car. The teacher was treated at Community hospital, Long Beach, police reported.

Other Accidents
George Stovall, 56, 801 North Sycamore, was cut over the left eye at Fourth and Sycamore, yesterday, when his light delivery truck and a car driven by Lella Hastings, 48, 1319 Louise street, collided.

Bruce Yarbrough, 2014 Evergreen, riding a bicycle, was bruised when knocked from the vehicle by a truck which was being parked by Herbert Jackson, 1912 South Main, in front of 103 North Sycamore. Two hours before, Yarbrough told sheriff's officers his own bicycle was stolen New Year's eve and asked assistance in finding it.

MENTON HALTS COUNTY WORRY

What to do? What to do? County Clerk B. J. Smith didn't know and neither did the supervisors after a half hour's discussion today, but District Attorney W. F. Menton had the answer.

It all started when Smith discovered 2550 printed post cards to be used for acknowledging cancellation affidavits from other counties. The cards were in the basement of the courthouse and had been there for many years—so many years that they are no longer needed.

There's the Rub
Smith turned them in to the post office and received $19.12 worth of postage stamps. And there was his problem staring him in the face!

Under the law the post office could not pay him for the cards in cash and had to reimburse him in stamps. The law also said that Smith could not use the stamps until a legal use could be found.

The problem was finally solved when Menton advised the supervisors to adopt a resolution authorizing Smith to make the exchange and use the stamps in his office.

POULTRYMEN URGED TO MAKE CAREFUL CHECK ON FLOCKS

Assistant Farm Advisor Ross E. Crane today urged Orange county poultrymen to make a careful investigation or checkup on flocks from which hatching eggs are produced, in connection with placing orders with hatcherymen for chicks.

"This is the time of year such orders are placed," crane said in pointing out that pullets which are developed from chicks which cost around 16 cents instead of 10 cents practically always are more profitable to the owner and more than pay for their extra cost as well as the extra cost of the cockerels.

"Greatly Preferred"
"This is because they lay more eggs than the cheaper chicks and are often less susceptible to some of the poultry diseases," he declared.

"The important thing for chick buyers to do is to visit the flock from which his hatching eggs are to come and to study the record of egg production and record of mortality of the flock. If the egg production of the flock is in the 175 to 200 per year group and the mortality is average or lower than average, the hatching eggs from such a flock should be greatly preferred to those obtainable from an ordinary flock or from a flock from which no records are obtainable.

Resist Disease
Using hatching eggs only from flocks that are over one year old also is a strong recommendation as birds in such flocks have demonstrated that they have some ability to resist disease. Birds in younger flocks have not demonstrated this ability to such a length of time so cannot be considered as suitable for the production of hatching eggs.

Most poultry breeding flocks have been tested for Pullorum disease and the reacting birds removed. However, a prospective buyer of hatching eggs or of chicks should determine that testing has been done and reactors removed from the flock from which the hatching eggs will be produced.

Talbert Clubs To Be Organized

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE GREATEST DISTANCE POSSIBLE BETWEEN ANY TWO POINTS ON THE EARTH'S SURFACE, IN A STRAIGHT LINE, IS APPROXIMATELY 12,500 MILES.

THE earth's greatest diameter is 7926.7 miles, which gives it a circumference of approximately 25,000 miles. Therefore, in order to reach a point at the opposite end of the earth, we would need to travel only 12,500 miles.

ARCHITECT FOR PLANT IS NAMED

There will be two buildings, the main factory and office building to be 100 by 200 feet, two stories high and of reinforced concrete, steel and wood construction. The other building, to be used as a drying room, will conform but will be only 60 by 100 feet in size.

Anaheim Youths Held In Thefts

ANAHEIM, Jan. 25.—Two Anaheim boys, aged 16 and 17, were in custody of the juvenile court today following exposure yesterday of loot valued at more than $200 which they had taken from cars and homes during the past month and had stored in a vacant house.

Officer Fay Barnett apprehended one of the boys Sunday afternoon when the youth was seen to be leaving a house. Through him, police learned of another boy's complicity in a series of thefts.

The houses burglarized included the Art Wilmsen home, two homes on North East street and one on Broadway which police had not definitely located.

The fan belt should be adjusted in warm weather. It should not be so tight that it cannot be moved by the hand.

LET THE BOARD OF EDUCATION EXPLAIN

The Cecilia Singers of Santa Ana are obliged to lease the Orange high school auditorium instead of the Santa Ana auditorium for their concert to be given February 8 for the reason that the price on the Santa Ana auditorium is about twice what it is in Orange for a larger room.

The columns of The Register are open for the Santa Ana board to explain why they continue to carry this policy.

SELF-HELP VITAL

Agriculture's future depends largely on what the farmer does for himself. This fact, which should be self-evident but seems to have been forgotten in these days of political farm relief, was emphasized by Herbert King, president of the New York State Farm Bureau, in commenting on the future of the dairy industry.

"Much of the success of the industry in 1938," said Mr. King, "aside from general business conditions, will depend upon the ability of our dairymen in combining their efforts to successfully bargain in regard to price, terms and conditions of sale. Much of the success of the industry during the coming year rests squarely upon the shoulders of dairymen themselves."

That goes for every other branch of farming as well. Self-reliance and intelligent co-operation are as essential to farm progress as to the progress of a business or an individual. You can't do much for a man who won't try to help himself.

MORE AND BETTER ROADS

The annual convention of the American Road Builders' association, meeting in Cleveland, brings to the fore again the question of constructing additional highways in the United States.

President Roosevelt recently asked congress to cut down on federal road-building funds. Congressmen complained, some very vigorously. They realized that at least part of their popularity back home depends on a continuing flow of federal cash to build good highways.

Leaving political aspects entirely aside, however, the value of improved highways was proved in dollars and cents terms in recent tests in Iowa.

The survey showed that it cost 3.07 cents a mile to operate a passenger auto on dirt roads; 2.17 cents per mile on gravel roads, and only 1.44 cents a mile on paved roads.

The lesson is that good roads really save money. The nation can never get too many of them, whether they are built with federal or local funds. Of course that is only if congressional pork and graft are eliminated from all road construction jobs.

JUSTIFIABLE COMPLAINT

William Gallienne, executive secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce in a letter to Secretary Howard I. Wood of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce registers a complaint against the minimum of publicity given the beach city in the latest advertising booklets compiled and mailed out by the Santa Ana Chamber.

Mr. Gallienne in his letter to Mr. Woods writes:

"I can honestly say that I am stumped to know what we can do to put Huntington Beach and Santa Ana on a friendly basis.

"We have been working for better transportation to Santa Ana and for more co-operation between merchants to keep business in Orange county and yet we find ourselves, as has been in the past, in the eyes of Santa Ana, a forgotten city who pays and pays and cannot receive recognition."

In another paragraph Mr. Gallienne writes:

"You have told the story of Laguna Beach with five pictures—Newport and Balboa seven pictures and San Clemente with one picture."

One picture of Huntington Beach appears in the booklet, that of the trailer camp. The cutlines, however, fail to reveal the fact that the camp is located in Huntington Beach.

Santa Ana is a natural trading center for Huntington Beach, but it is a known fact that Huntington Beach citizens spend a great deal of money in Long Beach. In the first place transportation facilities to Long Beach are far better. To Santa Ana the roads are not direct.

It is our belief the Chamber missed a bet by ignoring Huntington Beach in its booklet. We believe Laguna Beach, Newport, Balboa and San Juan Capistrano were deserving of the number of pictures they received in the booklet, but Huntington Beach should have been given equal treatment as Huntington Beach is the center of the oil industry in the county.

The booklet is a fine piece of work and much credit should go to Mr. Wood. But if these booklets are to capitalize on the beauties and advantages of other sections of the county it would be well to treat the various communities with equal prominence. If this can't be done, let's make the future booklets deal with Santa Ana and Santa Ana alone.

We agree with Mr. Gallienne in his letter to Mr. Wood in which he says "you will probably realize that my stand is, at least, fair."

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

ADDITIONS TO CAPITAL ALWAYS BENEFICIAL

During the last few years our starry-eyed educators, who have never been educated by paying their own losses but having them paid by public taxation, have come to the conclusion that every addition to capital is not necessarily beneficial to the working class and/or enriches the nation.

Because of this erroneous belief, our wage theories, our tax theories and our money systems are so practiced that they have retarded additions to capital and for five solid years we have had on the average of one man out of five unemployed.

This unparalleled crime of unemployment in the United States is primarily due to the misinterpretation of our educators and demagogues on this one fundamental belief. They now contend that this axiomatic statement was true years ago but is not true now.

It would seem to us that these often well-meaning educators err in their denial of the axiom that every addition to capital adds to the general welfare in the fact that they do not note that the word "ADDITION" is in the statement.

They see men investing capital that does not benefit society and, therefore, conclude that the axiom is outgrown and is not effective now.

Let us illustrate how they reason. If a man puts $10,000 in a gas station where there are gas stations on three opposite corners and he sells the same kind of gas and there is no great demand for gas in the territory, this of course does not add to the general welfare.

But this is not an addition to capital. It is a subtraction from capital. The food, shelter and indulgences that was liquid capital when it went into the new gas station is of much less value after it has gone into a station than it was before. Therefore, there is not an addition to capital but a subtraction from capital.

Because of this fallacious, modern, socialistic idea we have adopted tax laws and wage practices that have prevented addition to capital. It is undoubtedly due to this erroneous belief advocated in our modern text books and our modern education taught to our children that we are now producing about half of what we should produce and have 10,000,000 people out of work with no prospect for improvement.

If there is any one belief that has caused our trouble, it is this erroneous belief that the standard of living of the people can be improved permanently without additions to capital.

SUPREME COURT TO MAKE MOMENTOUS DECISION

A news dispatch carries the story that the United States supreme court has agreed to hear a case to determine whether or not the Rapid Transit Company of New York has a right to discharge people because they do not belong to a union.

The Guffey bill established the principle that employers in interstate commerce, have no right to discharge a man because he does belong to a union. It is pretty generally conceded that the government has a right to limit the rights of contract so that contracts, by the very nature of their relations, cannot be entered into that would be detrimental to society as a whole.

Now it would seem if it can be construed that an employer has no right to discharge a man because he belongs to a certain organization that the employer would equally have no right to discharge a man because he did not belong to a certain organization. To conclude that they have no right to discharge because they do belong to an organization and construe that they have a right to discharge because they do not would certainly be class legislation of the worst kind. It certainly would establish despotism and a dictatorship that in the long run would abridge the very foundation that led to the establishing of this country as an independent government. It would abridge the right to the pursuit of happiness in the way the individual believed to be beneficial to society. It would abridge his right of conscience.

The decision made by the supreme court on this momentous question might be the final turning point as to our future.

WISELY SAID

John Stephen McGroarty, in his daily column, is discussing the difficulties of democracies surviving. He points out that France is having a very difficult time and probably will end up with a dictatorship; that England and the United States will then be the only two real democracies left; and that England is in a precarious condition.

He concludes his articles by saying, "The President can do much to help save at least the United States for democracy by putting congress on its own responsibilities instead of reserving its constitutional powers to himself. If he has no thought of being a dictator he should not act like one."

The last paragraph is certainly timely. If Roosevelt is really interested in preserving true democracy, he should cease doing as all dictators do—demanding more and more power. It makes no difference what a man says he is trying to do. We judge him by his fruits and when he does exactly as all dictators do, he will destroy our form of government, whether he intends to or not.

The discovery, a few years back, of two rare ostraca tablets on which were inscribed votes cast 2,400 years ago by Greek citizens in ostracism proceedings against Aristides and Themistocles, Greek statesmen, brings to mind a story of the period resurrected by H. G. Wells.

A Greek citizen, so the tale goes, unwittingly approached Aristides himself, with the request that he mark a ballot in the citizen's behalf. "I wish," said the citizen, "to cast my vote against Aristides."

"Do you, then, know anything ill of this man, Aristides?"

"Well, no; in fact, I do not know him at all. But I have grown weary of hearing him referred to as 'Aristides the Just!'"—The Laughter Library.

While the Railroads Are Campaigning for a Rate Boost

General Hugh S. JOHNSON Says

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—This is a piece about my colleagues—the columnists. Westbrook Pegler said not long ago that it is a frightful piece of brass even to hold out to be one of what the Gridiron club satirized as the Seven Pillars of Wisdom and I agreed with him.

But, on second thought, I dunno. In my own work of attempting to study and digest the torrent of news that streams across the ticker, a short cut is the columnist. I try to keep myself informed directly but I must confess I read them all.

Godfrey Nelson has a piece on Mr. Vinson's report on revising the undistributed profits tax. It is a terribly complex report. I know that he has sweated for hours to simplify it. That, checked against my own dope, saves hours for me.

Some columnists are intimates and advocates of the Third New Deal. I find difficulty in agreeing with much that Mr. Jay Franklin says but I know his contacts. If I want to guess what new white rabbit is being prepared in the pinkest purloins of Washington, I feel pretty sure that Mr. Franklin's reflect it.

If I am a long way from New York and haven't had a chance to see how the modern Lord Macaulays and economic royalists are taking it, it is easy to supply the lack by reading Dorothy Thompson.

A painstaking analyst with a slightly royalist slant on every development, is David Lawrence. The columnist with perhaps the most complete background of political memories with whom to measure new developments is Mark Sullivan. He has set a lot of it down in his history of our times, which I frequently consult in seeking sources or parallels of day-to-day developments. He has them at his finger tips.

Walter Lippmann and I don't seem to get along very well in mutual references, but his is the most careful philosophical comment on the passing show and that is necessary to a balanced view.

Among the best listeners in the Washington whispering gallery of rumor or better, are Drew Pearson and Bobbie Allen. While the "grape vines" don't always register right, these gossip-gleaners dig up a surprising lot of correct undercover dope.

Another columnist who also wears out a lot of conscientious reportorial shoe-leather and whose stuff is just about the most accurate of its kind is Paul Mallon. Franklin Waltman's stuff isn't syndicated but it ought to be. Joseph Alsop and Robert Kintner team up to do the same sort of bright but painstaking sifting job.

About the most engaging writer of all, when he wants to be, is Heywood Brown. He can be exactly as engaging about nothing whatever as about something important.

Arthur Krock is more of an editor than a columnist. I can't afford to miss a piece of his because he rarely writes without a background of absolutely accurate knowledge and he is the most careful and craftsmanlike chief in the whole kitchen.

I read several others whom I can't afford to miss, like Raymond Clapper's column and straight reporters who add a dash of editorial writing like Turner Catledge and Tom Stokes. Eleanor Roosevelt rarely risks political comment but many of her paragraphs have proved highly revealing. To my mind the cream of the class are Westbrook Pegler and Frank Kent—Peg on every subject under the sun and Frank on politics.

The whole bunch taken together represent a group of painstakingly informed opinions from almost every conceivable angle. When you have read them all, you may not flush the covery of truth, but you certainly have covered the pastures with about a dozen of the busiest bird dogs in any man's hunting preserves.

The mass of news and the avalanche of developments is too great for any man, even with a hard working staff to sift it all.

HUGH S. JOHNSON.

WE, THE PEOPLE

By JAY FRANKLIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The annual nation-wide celebration of the President's Birthday, in order to raise funds for the new National Foundation which has been organized to fight infantile paralysis, is one of the reasons why Mr. Roosevelt has unshakable a hold upon public affections.

No man who is so mindful of the sufferings of his fellows and so determined in his fight against one of the terrifying scourges of the human race, can be regarded as altogether bad, even by his most angry opponents. No man who has come through such a struggle for physical and moral recovery, as that embodied in his own eight-year fight for renewed health, can be alienated from the mass of his countrymen, charm the political wizards never so wisely, curse the hired shouters never so loud.

The president has earned his claim to this warmth of social responsibility—fairly and honorably. Stricken himself in 1920, he pioneered in some of the curative processes which have since become standard. His sponsorship of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation long antedated the New Deal and he and a group of his friends have long cooperated in expanding the facilities for combating this dreaded infection. In the first enthusiasm of the New Deal, before the so-called Tories had decided to ignore the public will, Mr. Roosevelt's birthday was selected as an appropriate occasion to enlist the whole American nation in the fight.

That this must have a profound effect on public support for our Chief Executive is as obvious as it is unavoidable. He deserves it and not all the whispering-campaigns and mud-slinging of partisan politics can shake public confidence in Mr. Roosevelt's essential humanity, generosity and fellow-feeling.

Now the President has donated his birthday in perpetuity to this battle against disease—perhaps the only political anniversary in American history which has been expressly dedicated to the war for human health and happiness. The committee which is in charge of the arrangements is non-partisan and includes, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Keith Morgan, George E. Allen, Walter J. Cummings, Marshall Field, Fred J. Fisher, Edgar B. Ford, W. Averell Harriman, S. Clay Williams and Nicholas M. Schenk. This year every major agency of industry, publicity, medicine, communications and social relations has volunteered to cooperate.

The foundation proposes to raise funds for scientific research, for first aid in epidemics, for proper care and for clinical treatment of the consequences of the disease. Already it is known that infantile paralysis is communicated by a virus which enters the nervous system through the olfactory nerve and that special spraying in time of epidemic offers a protection. It remains to devise some technique of immunology which will be as effective as the techniques which combat typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever, yellow fever and smallpox. Equally important are the methods for treating the patient during and after the infection, since the victim of paralysis is left a dependent on society for months and years after the disease has left him.

It is one of the endearing characteristics of this nation that we can—and often do—take time out from our bitterest debates and most savage struggles to extend a helping hand to our unfortunate fellow-citizens. The celebration of the President's Birthday—set for Jan. 23 of this year—is one of those occasions when all of us can lay aside our passions and prejudices to work for the good of others, and can forget for the moment regimentation, economic royalism, Fascism, Communism and all the other dead cats of current controversy in an interlude of mutual forbearance and self-help.

Editor Register:

We might agree with you, Mr. Colbeck, that man was created a free moral agent "born non moral, neither good nor bad, but possessing the potential possibilities of being what he chooses" if any such idea were in the Bible. Created in the image, after our likeness (Gen. 1, 26-27). God says, but was not to eat of the forbidden fruit. The act of eating caused man to change, brought him under moral law with spiritual law still available to raise him above this law of sin. But as Jesus and Paul plainly taught it was to be a great struggle between flesh and spirit. The matter in the Bible describes this struggle and Paul himself was not free from it. There must have been more than a simple choice for God to have offered his only begotten Son on the altar of sin. Paul knew he could not put on his "crown of righteousness" laid up for him "at that day"; he knew and many times showed his faith that his Lord was the source of all righteousness, that righteousness in the law was not enough to save him. This is what we must learn. All any of us can do is to accept what God has chosen to tell us in the Bible or in nature. If we try to interpret these things beyond what our finite minds can reach we come to unhappy states.

The whole duty of man under the sign is to fear God and keep the commandments of His word. (Ecc. 12, 13-14). Both good and evil are to be brought into judgment. Adam ate of the fruit of the tree of knowledge after the woman so perhaps the masses cannot use their "powers of self determination," as also the children of Israel failed to keep the tables of stone without God's help. God made the first tables and his finger wrote them (Ex. 32-16, but they were dropped by Moses and broken. The second tables were hewed by Moses and written upon by God (Ex. 34, 1), but did they keep them? Who of us has not sinned and found experience a dear teacher?

There was also "a tree of life" in that first garden (Gen. 2,9); they were not forbidden to eat of it. (Gen. 2, 17). But this tree of life was kept from man by a flaming sword turning every way (Gen. 3, 22-23). Wisdom and understanding are compared to "a tree of life" (Prov. 3, 13-20; and 11, 30). In Rev. 2, 7 it says: "to him that overcometh I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God". The rights to its fruits are stated in Rev. 22, 2-4.

As regards David the Psalmist, being a degenerate—the evidence is lacking. He fell for a woman, brought her husband into the front line of battle. He was punished here below and repentant. Their child died, but Bethesda received his love and Solomon resulted. Some of the men who did things for God were "non moral" but most of them were overcomers finally. David was a sinner but so are you and I, according to our capacity. We don't want the entire responsibility of working out our own salvation surrounded by evil instincts. Be careful of your phrases "insanity of omniscience" and "peevishness of deity" they have no meaning in the dictionary. Of course you alibi by not imputing the Bible to God?

You state: "a corrupt tree cannot bring forth good fruit." Jesus

TOBACCO IN MODERATION WON'T SHORTEN LIFE BUT MAY SLOW BLOOD CIRCULATION

The amount of tobacco used in the United States has been steadily increasing for many years.

In 1915 the United States produced about 6,500,000,000 cigars and about 18,000,000,000 cigarettes. In 1935 the figure was reduced to about 5,000,000,000 cigars and raised to 135,000,000,000 cigarettes. The one new factor of importance outside of the relatively slight increase in population was tobacco smoking on a large scale by women.

The exact effects of tobacco on health are not very well understood. Probably the agitators against tobacco have greatly over-emphasized the harmfulness of smoking and those who favor its use have underemphasized its dangers.

As nearly as we can put the matter in one sentence, there is no good evidence that tobacco smoking in moderation will shorten the average man's life; although burning tobacco gives rise to a considerable number of substances which in large doses may damage the tissues of the human body, such as nicotine, pyridine, furfural and carbon monoxide.

Some people have irritation of the nose, throat and lungs from tobacco. Others seem to avoid irritation.

There is some evidence that the use of tobacco may produce a slowing of the circulation in the capillary blood vessels, and smoking has been related particularly to the onset of such conditions as thrombo-angiitis obliterans or Buerger's disease, and to other diseases which are the result of interference with circulation.

Conceal of the mouth is more frequent among men than among women. It has been believed that its greater prevalence among men is associated with the larger amount of smoking done by men.

In recent years women have smoked in increasing numbers and there is some reason to believe that cancer of the mouth is appearing with greater frequency among women.

Cancer is definitely related to irritation. Cases are known in which cancers of the lips have appeared at the point where a pipe is regularly held or where a cigarette becomes adherent to the tissue of the lip and is frequently pulled off.

Recently there have been many notions developed in relationship to the smoking of tobacco which need clarification. It has been said that the paper coverings on cigarettes contained various habit forming or narcotic drugs or that they contained special substances which interfere with the appetite.

As far as we know, there is no evidence that paper on cigarettes now generally on the market contains any habit forming or narcotic drugs.

There is a general impression that smoking by mothers of young infants or by prospective mothers does harm to the child. Apparently there has been no scientific study of importance directly on this point. However, knowing that harmful drugs may be transmitted in the mother's milk or through her blood to the body of the infant, all specialists in these subjects recommend great moderation, if not complete abstinence, for prospective or nursing mothers.

All sorts of preparations have been developed with the idea that they would cause people to stop smoking. Apparently the discontinuing of smoking, as of any other habit, depends largely on the will of the person. The use of various substitutes or bad tasting medicines does not seem to be especially valuable.

We might agree with you, Mr. Colbeck, that man was created a free moral agent "born non moral, neither good nor bad, but possessing the potential possibilities of being what he chooses" if any such idea were in the Bible. Created in the image, after our likeness (Gen. 1, 26-27). God says, but was not to eat of the forbidden fruit. The act of eating caused man to change, brought him under moral law with spiritual law still available to raise him above this law of sin. But as Jesus and Paul plainly taught it was to be a great struggle between flesh and spirit. The matter in the Bible describes this struggle and Paul himself was not free from it. There must have been more than a simple choice for God to have offered his only begotten Son on the altar of sin. Paul knew he could not put on his "crown of righteousness" laid up for him "at that day"; he knew and many times showed his faith that his Lord was the source of all righteousness, that righteousness in the law was not enough to save him. This is what we must learn. All any of us can do is to accept what God has chosen to tell us in the Bible or in nature. If we try to interpret these things beyond what our finite minds can reach we come to unhappy states.

The whole duty of man under the sign is to fear God and keep the commandments of His word. (Ecc. 12, 13-14). Both good and evil are to be brought into judgment. Adam ate of the fruit of the tree of knowledge after the woman so perhaps the masses cannot use their "powers of self determination," as also the children of Israel failed to keep the tables of stone without God's help. God made the first tables and his finger wrote them (Ex. 32-16, but they were dropped by Moses and broken. The second tables were hewed by Moses and written upon by God (Ex. 34, 1), but did they keep them? Who of us has not sinned and found experience a dear teacher?

There was also "a tree of life" in that first garden (Gen. 2,9); they were not forbidden to eat of it. (Gen. 2, 17). But this tree of life was kept from man by a flaming sword turning every way (Gen. 3, 22-23). Wisdom and understanding are compared to "a tree of life" (Prov. 3, 13-20; and 11, 30). In Rev. 2, 7 it says: "to him that overcometh I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God". The rights to its fruits are stated in Rev. 22, 2-4.

said this in regard to false prophecies (Math. 7, 15-19).

You remember the barren fig tree withered—was this prophetic of a false church.

You seem to rather hope that Communism will be purged, of collectivism to become social-cooperation. Jesus' program was indeed not this but contained the restitution of all things truly. The labor movement, for and against must come into the judgment of God's word. Jesus showed how in his sayings and parables. The good in everything will triumph, the bad or evil be confined to everlasting destruction finally.

The Golden Rule when agreed to and put into practice by many—what would it not produce in the way of peace and prosperity. "SYSTEMATIC BALANCE"

Editor Register:

It is my thought that without systematic balance we would have no earth with its life. Balance to me is an equalizer, and system is the back-bone of accomplishment.

Many years ago the people on this earth thought that it was dirt they were under the impression that if one sailed too far out on the ocean that he would go over the edge into eternity. With the knowledge we have of the earth today we ponder at the ignorance of the people of 500 years ago, just as the people will ponder at our ignorance 500 years hence. We know now that the earth is systematically balanced and travels on a certain orbit year after year and we are told by men who make a study of it, that there are many other worlds in space doing the same as ours.

We know that because our earth travels this orbit around the sun in its own systematic way it causes us to have four seasons each year. These four seasons act as a system of balance to the life of all kinds upon this earth. The winter brings rains, snows, etc., which is food for the plant life. The spring brings warmth, causing the plant life to grow; the summer brings added warmth causing the plant life to ripen and become food for the animal life. Fall is harvest time. The plants store their seed for another year and the animals and man store their food for another year.

Because of this fact that the earth and most of the life upon it is systematically balanced, and cannot be changed, it is my opinion, that men and their offspring will go forward just so long as they balance themselves to conform with the balance of the earth upon which they live. Otherwise I believe the same thing will happen to them that would happen to the earth if it became unbalanced and left its orbit which I understand it has been traveling for millions of years.

Systematic balance plays as important a part in the individual's life as it does collectively, but because of limited space I must stop.
